COOLIDGE INDORSES PLANS FOR NETWORK OF AIR LINES

Hoover Project Also to Aid Defense; Los Angeles to be Terminus of Cross-Country Route

PAUL SMITH'S, Aug. 13. (AP)—Plans for blanketing the country with a network of commercial airways were announced by Secretary Hoover of the Department of Commerce today during a visit with President Coolidge. At the same time, the progress the department is making insupervising the development of commercial aviation was indicated when Mr. Coolidge approved two routes it recommended be laid down, one for a transcontinental airway from New York to the Pacific Coast and the other for a southwestern service from Chicago to Dallas and Ft. Worth, Tex.

In announcing the action of the President, Mr. Hoover expressed the belief that within six months full passenger, express and mail service will be in operation on the transcontinental route.

At the same time, he indicated that announcements will be made soon for other commercial airways, providing, in general, lines along the Atlantic coast, in the Mississippi Valley, the Great Lakes region, the Northwestern states and the Pacific Coast, including the Far Northwest.

NATIONAL RESERVE

Government encouragement and assistance in the development of commercial aviation has been made possible by legislation which grew out of the investigation of the entire aviation situation by the President's aid board last winter.

The development also will be of vital importance, it was pointed out by Mr. Hoover, in creating an air reserve for the national defense. Because of the importance of this aspect of the situation, the Commerce Department has had the co-operation of the Army and Navy Departments in laying its plans for commercial flying.

Two national advisory committees also are to be appointed by President Coolidge to assist the Commerce Department in its work.

This will aid in the establishment of national air routes, and will cooperate with the assistant secretaries in charge of aviation for the Army and the Navy as well as with the Commerce Department in this work.

The other will assist the department in the formulation of rules for navigation, inspection of planes and licensing of pilots on national airways.

TWO FOCAL POINTS

Each will be made up of representatives of commercial aviation industries and of the army and navy flying services.

Under the present plans, Chicago and Salt Lake City will be important focal points for the network of air lines.

The transcontinental route will follow the line of the air mail, passing from New York through Cleveland, Chicago, Iowa City, Des Moines, Omaha, North Platte and Cheyenne to Salt Lake City, from where it will proceed in two branches, one to San

VOLPI GIVES ITALY VIEWS OF MELLON

Finance Minister Avers Treasury Chief Satisfied With Conditions

ROME, Aug. 13. (AP)—Andrew W. Mellon, American Secretary of the Treasury, expressed keen satisfaction in Italy's political and financial condition previous to his departure from Rome to Geneva, Finance Minister Volpi today told the Associated Press.

"Although Secretary Mellon's trip was strictly private, his visits to Premier Mussolini and myself, being personal courtesies," M. Volpi said, "it is easy for everyone to suppose that finance was discussed without, however, any prevision or decision. He was able to see with his own eyes the solidity of the political situation, the activity and disciplined productivity and the strong co-ordinated and constructive sense, which I described during my Washington negotiations, and he did not hide his keen satisfaction."

GENEVA, Aug. 13. (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon, who arrived here yesterday from Rome, spent the day resting and shopping with his daughter, Mrs. David Bruce. This afternoon he received Hugh Gibson, chief of the American delegation to the preparatory disarmament conference.

Prof. Manley O. Hudson, of Harvard, who is attached to the legal section of the League of Nations, called on Mr. Mellon and invited him to visit the headquarters of the League of Nations. Secretary Mellon, however, expressed his regret at being unable to accept the invitation since he is here on a vacation and has arranged for all of his time.

JAPAN WILL PLAY HOST TO PRINCE

Swedish Royalty Will be Treated as Guests of Nation Three Days

TOKIO, Aug. 13. (AP)—Tentative plans prepared by the board of ceremonies of the imperial household department for the entertainment of Crown Prince Gustavus Adolphus and Princess Louise provide for their being formally treated as guests of the nation three days about the middle of September. They will be received at the Imperial Palace by the Emperor, Prince Regent and Crown Princess and there will be a number of state banquets in their honor.

First, however, the royal visitors will have seen some of the scenic beauties of Nippon viewing the famous Crater Lake, Chuzenji near Nikko and some of Japan's great mountains. A rest in the mountains near Hakone will follow, after which perhaps they may climb Mt. Fuji, highest peak of Nippon.

From the mountain retreat the Prince and Princess will travel to Nagoya, thence to Gifu to see the cormorants (trained birds) diving and catching fish for the native delectation.

It is expected they will remain in Japan until about October 15, which will give Prince Adolphus several days for archaeological research at the Imperial University and in the temples and the famous old shell mounds which belonged to the primitive races of Nippon.

A battleship will convey them to Korea, the famous floating temple in the inland sea and to the Beppu hot springs in Kyushu. Their plans after visiting Korea have not been announced, but it is expected they will return home by way of China.

Nice Soft Tree Cushions Crash; Aviator Unhurt

CLEVELAND, Aug. 13. (AP)—Willard Parker, commercial aviator, Cleveland, went about his affairs without a scratch to show for a 3000-foot plunge with his plane into a tree top in a forest in Woodbury Pass, Pa.

Bringing a new British Martinsyde plane from New York to Cleveland, Parker was following a mail plane. Between Mifflingburg and Woodward, Pa., Parker's gas line clogged.

Though he was only a half-minute's flight from an emergency field, Parker's way was barred by mountains, and he had to head his plane for the forest below, and take his chance on landing in a nice, soft tree.

RULING ADDS BACK TAX

New Levies Face Californians

Board Finds Husband Liable to Make Income Payment Under Higher Rate

Decision Promises to Reopen Thousands of Cases for New Assessments

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13. (AP)—California taxpayers who divide their income between husband and wife for purposes of income taxation are liable to deficiency proceedings by the government assessing the entire tax against the husband, it was held today by the Board of Tax Appeals.

The board ruled that the provision of the new revenue law, exempting from additional assessment income-tax returns made in community property States prior to January 1, 1925, was not applicable to California.

The decision will cause the reopening of thousands of cases and subject California taxpayers to additional assessments back to 1909 by reason of the fact that a single assessment against the husband would bring the total income within the higher surtax brackets.

The board's ruling was based on a recent Supreme Court decision that husband and wife in California were not entitled to divide their income on community property for purposes of taxation subsequent to 1917.

In another decision the board ruled that a wife in California was entitled to file a separate return upon her separate earnings.

In this case, the wife, Alice J. Randall, received a salary of $6000 apart from the income of her husband.

TWENTY DIE IN AUSTRIAN EXPLOSION

Munitions Factory Blast on Island Wrecks Windows in Budapest and Vicinity

BUDAPEST (Hungary) Aug. 13. (AP) It is reported that twenty persons were killed in the explosion yesterday on Shepel Island, eighteen miles from Budapest, in the Mancred-Weiss ammunition factory. It has been impossible, however, to confirm the report owing to the large area covered by the factory and the intense heat from the burning buildings.

Firemen early today had succeeded in localizing the fire.

The Mancred-Weiss works is the only munitions factory permitted in Hungary under the Trianon treaty. It is under control of the inter-Allied Military Commission.

It is estimated that about thirty tons of powder exploded. The concussion was so great that windows were broken in Budapest. Some houses in the vicinity of the munitions factory were unroofed. It is reported that hundreds of persons over a wide area were injured by flying tiles and falling chimneys.

Cholera Traced to Waterworks of Chinese City

SHANGHAI, Aug. 13. (AP)—The outstanding cause of the cholera epidemic which has ravaged Chinese population in this vicinity for some time, taking an estimated toll of 1000 lives daily, has been traced to the Chapei waterworks which supplies the Chinese territory. Bacteria were found in the Soochow Creek intake, in the filter beds and in faucets.

As a result of sanitary measures adopted by the Chinese authorities aided by the Foreign Health Department and cooler weather there has been a marked decrease in the number of cases the last few days.

The only foreign victims have been Japanese and Indians. No white persons have had it.

CITY FOUND IN HUGE CAVERN

Petrified Bodies Strewn About Marble Floors of Mile-Deep Prehistoric Mexican Town

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 13. (Exclusive)—Details of the discovery near Juxtlahuaca, in the State of Guerrero, of an ancient buried city built on the floor of a tremendous cavern are published today in El Universal. The cavern, as so far explored, consists of fifteen distinct major underground openings in which whole communities could take refuge. The caverns were recently discovered by Isauro Silva, a farmer in the district, who conducted a party led by Senator Miguel F. Ortega.

Senator Ortega has just returned to Mexico City from the buried city with photographs of superb examples of stalactite and stalagmite structures.

His vivid description of the caverns has aroused the greatest interest in scientific circles here. The caverns are described as rivaling in beauty and extent those at Cacahuamilpa in the State of Morelos.

MARBLE FLOORING

A half-dozen persons accompanied Senator Ortega to the caves. They remained there for more than a week, according to El Universal, exploring and attempting to measure their extent.

The fifteen chambers are described as having solid white marble floring as smooth as the surface of a mirror. Perrified remains of human beings were found strewn about.

Other objects found in the caves were utensils, bead collars, crude axes and knives made of stone, earthen jars, fragments of plates and all manner of implements used in ancient times.

The largest of the caves was found by the explorers about a mile underground. The floor of this cave also was covered with white marble. In this cave the explorers, aided by electric torches, discovered the remains of an entire family which apparently had been overtaken by death while eating.

In the pyranid-shaped fireplace, which apparently had been used for cooking, the explorers found utensils and bits of petrified wood.

PAVED WITH SKULLS

"All but the actual food and life of this group, buried for unknown centuries in the black retreat in midearth, was exposed to our gaze," Senator Ortega said. "One of the jars discovered was unbroken and had a handle shaped like a curved lizard, beautifully designed. Twenty skulls were counted around this interrupted meal."

Senator Ortega said that all of the caves were literally covered with skulls and near one group of skeletons were found the remains of a dog.

The impression he obtained, he said, was that the entire community had been overtaken by a sudden upheaval of nature.

The smoothness of the flooring in many of the caves led the party to believe that the caves had been traversed by streets.

LEAGUE HAS NEW WORRY OVER SPAIN

How to Keep Government in World Compact Bothers Council Leaders

PARIS, Aug. 13. (AP)—How to keep Spain in the League of Nations is the object of an exchange of views now proceeding among the powers most interested in the question.

The chanceries have been informed that the German government maintains its decision not to go into the League unless it is the sole nation given an additional permanent seat in the League Council, while the Madrid government has officially announced that Spain must have a permanent seat if she remains in the League.

The matter was discussed in Paris and London on the occasion of King Alfonso's recent visits, but it remains in the same state as when the discussion began. The British and French governments, however, are continuing their efforts to induce Spain to take a more conciliatory attitude.

Poland, it is understood, has finally agreed to abandon her claim to a permanent Council seat for the time being, on the understanding that she will be given a temporary seat with assurances of renewal.

Foreign Minister Briand, who will head the French delegation at the coming League meeting, is particularly desirous of preventing a further breach in the Geneva organization.

Data on Arms to be Studied by Pact Experts

GENEVA, Aug. 13. (AP)—The military committee of the Preparatory Disarmament Conference today voted, seven to six, that all information on the state of armaments of various countries should be collected for study by an international body of experts. These experts will be authorized to frame a report indicating whether the trend of armaments of any given country is on an aggressive or defensive nature.

The United States, Great Britain, Japan and Italy are opposed to this action and probably will submit minority reports. The American attitude is that execution of any treaty for the limitation of armaments must depend upon the good faith of the signatories and that this will be hindered by any scheme of international control.

Entire National Forest of State, Except Camps, Closed to Smokers

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 13. (AP)—The forest fire on Castle Creek in the Shasta National Forest was reported today beyond control after a fresh outbreak of the flames yesterday. Reports to the Forest Service headquarters told of renewed efforts to subdue it.

Seven miles of a ten-mile front along which a fire on Eagle Creek in the Trinity National Forest had been brought under control today. The blaze which has been burning for two weeks in an almost inaccessible region along Titus Creek in the Klamath Forest was still unsubdued and additional men were dispatched to it. Two new fires were reported on Horse Creek and Bull Creek.

The entire California national forest, except in camps and habitations, was closed to smoking by order of the Forest Service today.

STOCKTON, Aug. 13. Exclusive) Two brush and forest fires threatened the mountain town of Sculsbyville above Sonora today, but heroic work by the townspeople saved the place from destruction. The flames were not repelled until several small buildings on the outskirts of the town were destroyed by the flames. The fire then passed off to the north on a mile front fanned by a heavy wind toward heavy timber and toward the Black Oak mine. Fire Warden Barren of Sonora assisted in fighting the flames.

PORTLAND (Or.) Aug. 13. (AP)—The automobile in which Ezra Meeker, aged trail-breaker, is making his sixth trip over the old Oregon Trail, was wrecked this afternoon on the Columbia River highway about twenty miles east of Portland.

Brakes on the machine failed to hold and it collided with a truck. No one was injured but the pioneer was forced to abandon the car and continue his journey with N. C. Wescott, editor of the Condonn (Or.) Globe-Times.

Meeker said the collision "merely shook him up," upon his arrival here he delivered to Mayor Baker a letter from Mayor Walker of New York City.

Mr. Hopkins died at Yuma, Ariz., leaving an estate valued at $10,000,000, the petition states.

The petitioners assert that Mark Hopkins left five brothers and three sisters, only one of whom received a portion of the estate. All the brothers and sisters are dead, it is declared, leaving as next of kin the signers of the petition.

Hopkins died intestate ,the petition sets out, and three-fourths of his estate was given his widow and the remainder to his brother, Moses Hopkins.

BUSINESS GOVERNMENT OR BOSS GOVERNMENT?"

Richardson Rips Camouflage From Opponents With Hammering Exposition of Facts

SANTA ANA, Aug. 13. (Exclusive)—Striking straight from the shoulder here tonight in an address that brought his hearers to their feet cheering his vigorous speech, Gov. Richardson charged the political bosses of Los Angeles and San Francisco with a conspiracy to wreck honest government in California and establish a regime of extravagance and political exploitation at Sacramento. The "yellow press" received an excoriation at the hands of the Governor which met with shouts of approval.

The Governor declared he is fighting "the same old gang the people defeated and repudiated in 1922," and appealed to all the voters to go to the polls on August 31, assuring his hearers that "the machine never wins elections except when there is a light vote."

"The big issue in this campaign," said Gov. Richardson, "is whether an administration of economy and efficiency, of business and business principles, of appointment of officials on merit, and of the stanch maintenance of law and order, can live in California.

"Do the people want a business government, or a government of political bosses by political bosses and for political bosses? I think there can be no doubt as to the answer."

Turning his attention to the small group of newspapers that are opposing his candidacy, Mr. Richardson, who for two decades has been president of the California Editorial Association, said:

YELLOW PRESS IS ASSAILED

"The yellow press, which is confined to the two great metropolitan cities, is seeking by misrepresentation, prevarication, abuse and every despicable method known, to discredit the business administration of the last four years and to hand the control of the State back to the vicious political bosses.

"This yellow press is foreign-owned and should have no voice in California politics. In the newsrooms of these yellow papers will be found instructions to writers emblazoned on the walls—'Truth'—'Truth'—'Truth'—but the truth is not the real motto; it is understood down the line that the foreign owner of these contemptible journals means for the word 'untruth' to be substituted for 'truth.'"

Gov. Richardson accused newspapers opposing his candidacy for re-election with suppressing news and with deliberately misstating facts relating to the accomplishments of his administration. He mentioned the fact that more than 200 California newspapers are supporting his re-election campaign.

"There are two dominant issues in the present campaign for the Republican nomination for Governor," said Mr. Richardson. "They are: Business in government with efficiency and economy, and the maintenance of law and order. It would seem there could be little objection to either, and there can be none on the part of the law-abiding citizens.

OPPOSITION DISCLOSED

"But there is a tremendous opposition," he continued, "and this opposition has been instituted and is being managed by certain discredited political bosses who seek again to obtain control of the State government and exploit it for their own purposes.

"In 1922 there had been built up in California one of the most powerful and vicious political machines ever known in the history of the United States.

"This machine not only dominated the various departments of State and placed incompetent political followers in office, but it also exploited the taxpayers by the wildest extravagance and waste, resulting in a great increase in the tax burden upon the people."

Describing the fight made against the machine, which was headed in San Francisco by Boss Alexander McCabe and Sheriff Tom Finn, and which has been augmented in the present campaign by the Los Angeles municipal machine boss, Kent K. Parrot, Gov. Richardson continued:

"As soon as I took office in 1923 I started to clean out the political machine and to remove the bosses from their sinecures. This caused great consternation among them and their wailing was heard throughout the land. These bosses were aided in their campaign by certain metropolitan yellow newspapers."

SAME OLD GANG

Prolonged cheers greeted the Governor's next statement:

"Again in 1926 we face the same old gang.

"The same political machine which was defeated in 1922 is again seeking to gain control of the State. The same discredited, slimy and disreputable political bosses who perverted the will of the people and exploited the taxpayers prior to 1922 are again seeking restoration of power.

"During the campaign of 1922 the political bosses had their agents stationed outside the State Treasurer's office and on the pay day of July 31, 1922, every State employee who came into the hall was held up for campaign purposes, regardless of whether or not that employee was under the civil service. Civil service has never been given a fairer trial or been more strictly administered than during my term of office, and during that time not a single civil service employee has been assessed or asked to make contribution to the campaign fund.

"In 1922 the yellow press had nothing to say about the violation of the law, because the yellow press was standing with the political bosses. Today these contemptible yellow journals are falsely attempting to make it appear that civil service employees are being assessed for campaign purposes. I ask any citizen who has any doubt in this matter to inquire first hand of any of the hundreds of civil service employees of the State of California, or to read the letter which I wrote two months ago to the head of every civil service department and which is posted in the various departments."

WARNS OF FALSE PROPAGANDA

Gov. Richardson warned his hearers that the remaining weeks of the campaign will be filled with the false propaganda and misleading statements of his opponents.

"From now until election," he said, "the people of California may expect the foreign-owned yellow press to teem with misrepresentation and falsehood. The political bosses and their followers who have been kept away from the pie counter during the last four years are desperate and are making a hard battle. It is important at the coming election that every good citizen should vote, the machine never wins elections except when there is a small vote.

"The voters of California can be assured," he concluded, "that I will continue the good fight to keep California free from the clutches of the disreputable political bosses and the foreign-owned yellow journals."

A representative Orange-county audience greeted Gov. Richardson tonight and a number of the leading Republican men and women of the county occupied the speaker's platform and spoke briefly in support of the Richardson administration and the Governor's candidacy for re-election.

The action is the result of abuse of automobile privileges by some members of the student body.

HOOVER TELLS PRESIDENT OF GROWING PROSPERITY

Few Laggards Like Agriculture and Textile Trade Reported to be Showing Healthier Trend

PAUL SMITH'S, Aupg. 13. (AP)—With a country enjoying in general a widespread prosperity, President Coolidge is working to aid the agricultural and textile manufacturing industries where conditions are not up to the general economic level. While details were withheld, it was said today after a visit of Secretary Hoover of the Commerce Department with Mr. Coolidge, that the government is attempting to improve the farm situation by steps which depended upon a co-ordinated effort of the agencies that provide agricultural credits to the country.

Such moves as have been made it was indicated, have been of a tentative character and directed through banks, insurance companies and mortgage loan concerns.

GAINS REVEALED

Efforts of the Commerce Department in the textile industry were said to have been centered especially on the cotton-spinning trade. While this, too, was not described in detail, it was said some progress has been made in adjustments in the industry of a beneficial character and that in the past month or six weeks there has been a distinct improvement.

Mr. Hoover arrived from Washington this morning and left for California at noon after reporting on the business situation and commercial aviation progress.

In general and apart from some lags in agriculture, textiles and bituminous coal, Mr. Hoover said the country was never in such excellent condition as at present. Even with agriculture, he added, there has been an improvement in prices of some commodities, while construction is 15 per cent greater in volume than a year ago.

Asked by the President about foreign trade conditions, Mr. Hoover said the exports of manufacturers were 12 per cent greater than last year, a favorable point, in the opinion of the President, who was said to regard the figures on such products as of more importance than those on raw materials entering the export trade, in so far as the balance of trade is concerned.

FOREIGN COMMERCE

The foreign commerce of Europe is about the same as before the World War, Mr. Hoover reported, with England showing a slight gain and Germany and France a slight loss. Reduced to prewar prices, he added, the exports of the United States are 57 per cent greater than before the war and imports 37 per cent greater.

There was a falling off in the American balance of trade last year as compared with the preceding year, it was explained, due largely to prices on three items. Although the amount of cotton and wheat exported was as large as the preceding year, it was said the prices were not as good last year, meaning a reduction in terms of dollars.

At the same time, it was added, there was a large increase in the cost of rubber imported last year as compared with the preceding year, so that on the dollar basis imports showed an advance.

President Coolidge was said today to have the impression that the budget allowance for prohibition enforcement in the fiscal year 1928 will be less than in the present year.

During his conference this week with Brig.-Gen. Lord, Director of the Budget, however, it was added that the President did not go thoroughly into the details of the preliminary estimates of the different departments, and of the Treasury Department not at all. But as the building program of the Coast Guard will be out of the way next year, it was explained, Mr. Coolidge believes the entire appropriation for prohibition enforcement will not be so large as for this year.

PRESIDENT FOR AIRWAYS PLANS

Francisco and the other to Los Angeles. From Salt Lake City, undoubtedly, it is said, a branch also will run north to Portland, Seattle and Tacoma, although a definite decision on this route is yet to be made.

The southwestern route will run from Chicago through Moline, Ill., St. Joseph, Mo., Kansas City, Wichita, Kan., Oklahoma City, and Tulsa, Okla., to Dallas and Ft. Worth, Tex. Just how soon this line will be in operation was not indicated by Mr. Hoover.

Definite announcement concerning other routes will await decisions as to extensions of some private lines now in operation over parts of the territory concerned, a further co-ordination of the broad program being worked out in the Commerce Department, national defense and other questions.

The Atlantic Coast line, however, it was said, probably will run from a point north of Boston, to Boston, New York, Philadelphia, or Baltimore, Washington, Raleigh, N. C., Savannah or Atlanta, Ga., Jacksonville and Miami, Fla.

The Mississippi Valley line will run from Chicago to New Orleans by way of St. Louis.

The Great Lakes region probably will be served by a route from the transcontinental line at Cleveland to Detroit and Chicago.

The northwestern States will be reached from the transcontinental line at Chicago by a route from Chicago to Minneapolis and St. Paul.

A line similar to that on the Atlantic Coast is contemplated for the Pacific Coast by a route from Southern California into Northern Washington State.

In general, the Commerce Department will own all ground equipment and stations for the new industry and supervise the operation of the national airways, while actual flying operations will be conducted by private companies.

FEDERAL CONTROL

Under the direction of Assistant Secretary William P. MacCracken, Jr., of Chicago, who was appointed only this week, the department will determine the location and routes of the national airways, improve and maintain the landing fields, provide for lighting the routes, examine and certify both private and commercial pilots who operate on the lines, create rules for navigation over the routes, and conduct inspections for safety.

Postmaster-General New, it was pointed out, has stated that the air mail service the Postoffice Department now operates will be turned over to private companies under contract as soon as continuity of performance can be guaranteed. It is considered possible that the transcontinental air mail and the night air mail service from New York to Chicago, by this policy, will be placed under private contract within the six-months period named by Mr. Hoover.

While the Postoffice Department was said to be expending $450,000 a year for air mail operations, it is expected that a greater sum will be required by the Commerce Department for civil aviation. Even an approximate estimate, however was not made by Mr. Hoover.

IN THREE MONTHS

Although not competing primarily with the railroads, but rather attempting to provide a rapid service for some passengers as well as merchandise and other goods where time is essential, several commercial companies already are in the field.

While it was not stated definitely whether these will enter the broader field to be thrown open by the Commerce Department, Mr. Hoover mentioned several in this connection. Among them were the eastern service of I. E. Mitten, head of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company; a Boston group operating a service from Boston to New York; a Los Angeles group operating from Los Angeles to Salt Lake City, and the National Air Transport Company operating from Chicago to Dallas.

Less than three months will be necessary, in the judgment of Secretary Hoover, for the Commerce Department to complete physical arrangements for the two routes decided upon today.

RUM RUNNER FIRED ON BY GUARD SHIP

New Recruit of Bay City Liquor Fleet Jettesons Cargo and Escapes

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 13. (AP)—A small vessel, described as a new arrival in San Francisco's rum row, was fired upon late today by Coast Guard cutter 256 in an unsuccessful effort to bring the ship to a halt for inspection.

The Coast Guard vessel encountered the suspected rum runner just outside the Golden Gate. Instead of obeying a border to halt the ship started at full speed for open set, jettisoning its cargo.

Under a fire of machine guns, rifles and a one-pound cannon, the fleeing ship quickly outdistanced the government vessel.

FRIGHT BRINGS BACK SPEECH

Woman Regains Voice After Twelve Years at Sight of Snake

ALLENTOWN (Pa.) Aug. 13. (Exclusive)—Twelve years ago when she was a girl 10 years of age, Miss Minnie Wisser, residing along the Philadelphia Pike near Lanark, two miles south of here, lost the power of speech through fright and since then was unable to utter a word. While walking with a number of her girl companions recently she encountered a rattlesnake coiled and ready to strike.

The sight of the reptile gave her such a fright that she cried out, "a snake." The sound of her voice frightened the others almost as much as the snake did, as they never had heard her speak.

As a result of the fright her speech was restored and she again is able to articulate as well as she did before being stricken.

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATES NOMINATED

New Mexico Party Names Standard Bearers and Announces Platform

ALBUQUERQUE (N. M.) Aug. 13. (Exclusive)—State Senator Dillon of El Cinto was nominated for Governor and three other candidates received their nominations in rapid fire order at today's afternoon session of the Republican State convention in session here.

Lieut.-Gov. Sargent was nominated for re-election by acclamation Juan A. Sedillo was nominated for Congress and John C. Watson for Supreme Court justice.

Dillon, the nominee for Governor, is a strong follower of Coolidge and has been identified with Republican politics for many years. He is a merchant and has been actively engaged in the live stock and commercial interests of the State.

The nominating speech was made by Manuel Otero. He had withdrawn as a candidate earlier in the morning and said of Dillon:

"He is the man who will bring back the G.O.P. in New Mexico by 10,000 majority and put an end to Harr tism forever in this State," referring to Hannett, now Democratic Governor.

Resolutions adopted at the convention declare for a law that will obtain honest elections and fair count provided with teeth in the shape of penitentiary sentences.

Promises of sweeping politics out of the management of schools and State institutions are also made in the resolutions. A recommendation for a system of free school books was also included. As to prohibition the plank reads, "We demand the strict enforcement of all laws."

FARM FIELD URGED FOR CHAMBERS

Recommendations Made at State Development Body Council Session

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 13. (AP)—Recommendations tending to place agriculture on a business basis in chambers of commerce throughout the State were adopted at the quarterly meeting here of the Sacramento Valley regional advisory counsel of the California Development Association.

A committee of ten, five representatives of agriculture and five of various chambers of commerce, with Ralph P. Merritt, director of the United States Chamber of Commerce, as ex-officio chairman, prepared the recommendations, the chief of which urged support of co-ordination of organizations dealing with water problems as well as encouragement of State-wide plans of development, utilization and distribution of water.

That council representatives from different counties arrange with various local organizations to have the industrial resources of each county carefully inventoried so that the industrial committee may be of greatest assistance in their development constituted another important agreement at the meeting.

Will H. Marsh, chief of the State Motor Vehicle Department, was the speaker.

Ex-Premier King Denies He Aims at Annexation

VICTORIA (B. C.) Aug. 13. (AP)—W. L. MacKenzie King, Liberal leader and former Premier of Canada, declared here last night "I stand for the British constitution through and through. I am not in favor, never have been in favor and never will be in favor of annexation.

"I believe this country can have no greater destiny than as one of the free, self-governing nations of the British Empire. Canada was in the happy position of being able to contribute to the peace of the world both by example and by her position of interpreter of the United States to Great Britain and of Great Britain to the United States."

The unit of three planes and tender makes Juneau its headquarters until work of taking aerial photographs for naval maps is completed.

CHINESE TOWN LACKS RULERS

Kulangsu, Near Amoy, Has No Government

Whites Won't Rule While Natives Cannot

Diplomatic Corps Asked to Solve Problem

AMOY (China) Aug. 13. (AP)—The international settlement of Kulangsu, near Amoy, has been without a government since the 1st inst., when the municipal council resigned. Only foreign rate payers living in the settlement have the right to serve on the council and it has been impossible to get any of them to do so.

The land regulations under which the settlement is governed make no provisions for such a crisis and the consular body hesitates to take control, maintaining it has no legal authority. The consuls are referring the matter to Peking for advice.

AGITATION TO BLAME

The situation was precipitated by continued agitation, boycotts and a campaign of trouble making against the various councilors. Kulangsu is located on the island of that name, about one-third of a mile west of Amoy. It has about 40,000 inhabitants, most of whom are Chinese. The Chinese own most of the property and pay most of the taxes and therefore desire more suitable representation on the council. The land regulations make no provision for this.

In 1922 the rate payers of the settlement recommended that an advisory committee of Chinese residents should be elected by them to assist and advise the municipal council. The Chinese accepted and appointed the advisory body which on occasion has met with the council to advise it with respect to matters affecting the Chinese. Kulangsu was turned over to the foreigners in 1903 as an international settlement.

COUNCIL OUTGROWN

The consular body made an effort in 1912 to obtain a revision of the land regulations without result, Peking having held up the matter. Efforts were made again in 1918 and 1919 with the same results.

Meanwhile the settlement grew from a village to a city and governing regulations became inadequate. A willingness for co-operation between Chinese and foreigners exists, the Chinese merely wanting more recognition.

One question still remains to be solved: Shall Kulangsu be returned to China or will the diplomatic body at Peking provide a means whereby an international city may work out its own salvation?

TWO DIE IN WISCONSIN LIQUOR WAR

Posse Chief and Asserted Moonshiner Also Wounded; Two Others Captured

WINEGAR (Wis.) Aug. 13. (AP)—George Rutherford, a constable, and William Stanley, an asserted moonshiner from Kentucky, were killed, and Elmer Monk, deputized after Rutherford was shot, and Jerry Brandeburg were seriously wounded last night after the constable sought to serve a warrant charging a prohibition law violation

Brandeburg, C. L. Boring and his son, Henry, are being held for complicity in the death of Rutherford, who with his wife drove to the asserted moonshiners' shack to serve the warrant. Mrs. Rutherford, who remained behind when her husband walked to the shack, heard two shots and drove here for help. A posse found Rutherford's body, and a short time later captured Boring.

Another posse led by Monk entered the woods from another side and shortly encountered two men. In an exchange of shots Monk was wounded and Stanley killed. Brandenburg was captured after being wounded.

Subway Tie-up Continues From Rain in Gotham

NEW YORK, Aug. 13. (AP)—Underground transit and communication lines in New York remain crippled this afternoon from the flooding of tunnels and sewers by yesterday's downpour of rain.

An army of workmen is engaged throughout the metropolitan area in repairing the ravages of the subterranean floods in an attempt to save millions of New Yorkers from a repetition of their experiences last night, when hundreds were marooned for hours in stalled trains.

This afternoon only one of the four East River tunnels of the Long Island Railroad, hardest hit of all the local transit lines, had been cleared of water sufficiently for the movement of trains.

No Use Trying! These Females WILL Get You

SEATTLE, Aug. 13. (AP)—George Bernard Shaw, British writer and erstwhile student of feminine psychology, may find interest in a statement here today of Lawrence Richey, an assistant to Secretary of Commerce Hoover.

Shaw's declaration that it is woman and not man who is the pursuer is substantiated by Richey.

"On a visit to the government seal reserve on the Pribilof Islands of Alaska," he said, "I learned something new about females.

"Every year the male seals take a stand on the shore and wait. Then the females look over the field and choose their males themselves. The popular boys may have a harem of 125 which they jealously guard. Some are only pursued by twenty-five or so, which seems enough."

LARGE HAIL SAID TO STUN BULL

Pieces "Big as a Hen's Egg" Also Reported to Have Killed Goats

TUCSON (Ariz.) Aug. 13. (Exclusive)—"Hail as big as a hen's egg" reported to have fallen during a storm north of Nogales, is declared to have stunned a 1200-pound bull and to have killed fifty-seven goats, the property of J. J. Grimth, a Santa Cruz Valley rancher. Corn and melon patches were ruined. Hail and rain also were heavy in Nogales, but did little damage in that locality. A torrential rain, accompanied by wind, did much damage in the vicinity of Willcox, tearing up trees and ruining gardens. The home of Dr. B. E. Briscoe was struck by lightning, but did not take fire.

BIBB GRAVES NOMINATED IN ALABAMA

Opposition Newspapers Admit Victory at Polls; Black Leads for Senate

BIRMINGHAM (Ala.) Aug. 13. (AP)—Newspapers opposing Bibb Graves for Governor in the Democratic primary conceded his nomination today with returns incomplete, although he has a plurality of only 2000 over Charles S. McDowell and A. H. Carmichael was a close third. A. G. Patterson was definitely out of the race.

The nomination will be decided by second choice votes under a primary rule which states that if no candidate receives a majority of first choice votes the nomination is decided between the two highest candidates by combining the first and second choice votes each has received. McDowell's second choice strength is conceded negligible.

Hugo L. Black, candidate for Senate, leads John H. Bankhead, the nearest of his four opponents, by 23,000 votes and is virtually assured of the nomination.

In the Congressional race W. B. Steagall was nominated over J. J. Speight; L. L. Patterson was leading W. B. Bowling and M. C. Allgood was far ahead of three opponents in his district.

REFERENDUM ATTACK FAILS

New York Dry Amendment Injunction Refused

Judge, However, Regards Vote as Futile

Congress' Right to Abdicate Powers Denied

NEW YORK, Aug. 13. (AP)—An application to enjoin submission of the State prohibition amendment to the voters was denied today, but the judge who ruled against the application also expressed the opinion that the referendum is futile.

The application was brought by Helen M. Albert as a citizen and sponsored by the New York Women's Committee for Law Enforcement. She charged that the referendum was unconstitutional. The action was brought against the Board of Elections and the Mayor.

Supreme Court Justice Crain ruled that the Board of Elections is a State agency and so no action could be taken against it by a taxpayer.

He wrote in his opinion that the referendum question means shall Congress take from the statute the definition of an intoxicating beverage and let each State decide this for itself so long as the beverage in question is not intoxicating in fact.

"The question proposed as thus construed," he said, "is futile because Congress could not constitutionally do that which those voting in the affirmative would be in such a vote suggesting that it should do.

"Congress cannot abdicate its power to define for purpose of enforcement through the Federal courts what shall be deemed an intoxicating beverage and confer upon the States the right to define for purposes of enforcement through Federal tribunals what shall not be deemed a violation of the Eighteenth Amendment."

CANAL REPAIR WORK CONSIDERABLE TASK

YUMA (Ariz.) Aug. 13. (Exclusive) The work of restoring the main canal of the Yuma system, badly washed by late floods on the California side of the Colorado River, is proving harder than had been expected and a number of tractors have been sent to help the hundreds of teams and scrapers already employed. Hundreds of acres were deeply flooded below the breaks and slushy conditions have prevented restoring the canal banks at a number of points. Officers in charge declare the worst has been passed and that water service will be resumed within a week.

CRAZED SLAYER CAUGHT

Daring of Posseman in Working Ruse Brings Fu Who Had Killed Wife

CINCINNATI, Aug. 13. (AP)—Shouting defiance from the window of a little farmhouse near New Richmond, O., Scott Workman, 42 years a farmer, for two hours today paced back and forth across the body of his wife, whom he had slain, before he was captured by Sheriff Clermont county and a posse of 100 men.

With his two babies, youngest of his brood of nine, clasped against his breast as a shield, Workman called out taunts and jibes to the posse who dared not shoot. In the house lay his wife, Mrs. Nora Walker Workman, 38 years of age, with twenty bullets in her body, fired by Workman who loaded and reloaded his automatic pistol after each vicious emptying of its chambers into her prostrate form. He had shot her down as she nursed her youngest child, a boy of seven months. Insanity, and, it is said, unwarranted jealousy, had blazed forth into uncontrolled fury, fired by days of moonshine drinking.

The drink-crazed farmer finally was captured through a ruse in which Sheriff Croswell, Marshal Ireton of New Richmond, and Charles McAllister, a friend of Workman, risked their lives.

DRINKS CONTINUALLY

The fact that Workman was seen frequently to pour himself out a drink from a jug of moonshine liquor while he held tight to one of his babies, using it as a shield, gave Sheriff Croswell an idea. The Sheriff, who knew Workman personally, had engaged him in parley a number of times, endeavoring to persuade him to surrender, but without avail. Croswell induced Charles McAllister, a friend of Workman, to walk to him. McAllister begged Workman to give him a drink. Finally, Workman called to McAllister to "come ahead and have one."

McAllister fearlessly walked up to the window where Workman stood with his pistol in hand and talked with Workman while Workman served him drinks.

During this time Sheriff Croswell and Marshal Ireton had gone to the rear of the house. When Sheriff Croswell saw his chance he leaped upon Workman and wrested the pistol from his hand.

Workman was led from the house, handcuffed and hurried to the Batavia (Ohio) Jail.

ADMITS GUILT

At the jail Workman admitted he had shot his wife. He declared he had found a letter written to her by a man in Felicity, O., and said this was the cause of his shooting her.

Workman was charged with murder and is to be arraigned in court tomorrow morning.

County officials also said the Workman children had been neglected and that township officials were planning to take steps to take the children away from Workman.

It was this contemplated step, couple with drink-inspired that prompted Workman officials said.

CATHOLIC KNIGHTS GAIN HANDS OFF IMPRESSION

All Sides Withhold Statements on Visit of K. of C. Chiefs to Secretary Kellogg

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13. (AP)—Emissaries of the Knights of Columbus who called today on Secretary Kellogg are believed to have gained a definite impression that the hands-off policy of the government regarding Mexico's domestic religious difficulties is to stand unchanged. At the same time, however, property and personal rights of all Americans in Mexico will continue to be protected whenever there is an attempted violation of rights granted by treaty or conferred by international or Mexican law.

The Secretary conferred for more than an hour with J. A. Flaherty, Supreme Knight, and D. J. Callahan, treasurer, of the national organization of the Knights of Columbus, who discussed with him the resolution adopted at the Philadelphia meeting of the order demanding that the Washington government take some unspecified action in connection with the religious turmoil in Mexico. By agreement neither Mr. Kellogg nor his callers had anything to say for publication after the conference.

A few hours later Mr. Kellogg was to motor to his conferences with President Coolidge at the White Pine Camp which he expects to reach late today.

DEPARTMENT FLOODED

In view of the Secretary's silence it is not expected that any formal statement of policy as to the religious situation in Mexico will be forthcoming from any official quarter, at least until after his discussion of foreign affairs with the President. Other aspects of the problem of safeguarding the legitimate enterprise as well as the personal rights of American nationals in Mexico will enter into their talks, but for the moment the religious dispute overshadows other matters, due to the feeling it has aroused in this country.

The State Department continues to be flooded with communications on the religious question. Many, but not all of them come from Catholic sources and are either specific or general protests against conditions in Mexico under the new religious law. A substantial number are said to be declarations in support of the government's policy of noninterference unless the rights of an American citizen should be adversely affected.

Diplomatic exchanges on Mexican oil and land laws and the case of J. R. Grande, Los Angeles fruit dealer under arrest in Mexico City, ended today. No word came as to when the Mexican reply to the last American oil and land note can be expected.

The State Department received no additional information as to the Grande case. The case falls squarely within the historic policy of the American government of conserving the rights of its nationals abroad under foreign domestic laws and international laws as well as under specific treaty stipulations.

CONSULATE STAFF ALLOWED TO SEE GRANDE

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 13. (AP)—All authorities today permitted members of the United States Consulate staff to see J. R. Grande, of Los Angeles, who had been held incommunicado on a technical charge of fraud growing out of the sale of arms. The American officials delivered a telegram to Grande from his wife in Los Angeles.

The Mexican officials told the consulate that the American's trial had not been held earlier because Grande himself wanted to await the arrival of documentary evidence from Los Angeles before his trial. No explanation was given as to why he had been held incommunicado. The American Embassy has not taken any further steps in the matter.

Vice-Consul Lewis went to the jail to see Grande yesterday evening, but was refused admission, although the Foreign Office informed the Embassy that arrangements had been made for an American representative to visit the prisoner.

MEXICO DECLARED ENTIRELY FREE OF DISORDER

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 13. (AP)—Reports received from the Governors of all the States of Mexico, says an announcement issued by the Department of the Interior today, show there is no disorder anywhere in the country as an outcome of the religious situation.

All Catholic churches with the exception of a few where inventories have not been completed or where church treasures are missing, are in charge of municipal committees. It is announced that the concession made to the Catholics in Mexico City, whereby the committees looking after the churches may be composed of five Catholics and five citizens appointed by the municipality, is to be extended throughout the country.

The Department of Interior says that seven priests in the State of Puebla have announced acceptance of the government's religious regulations, and the belief is expressed by the department that more priests gradually will assume a policy of acceptance.

But, so far as an outward truce is concerned, the government and the episcopate continue deadlocked, and there is no prospect of an agreement. There have been no new developments with regard to the boycott called by the League for the Defense of Religious Liberty with a view to coercing the government to relax the religious laws.

HEAT TWISTS ESPEE RAILS

About 100 Feet of Siding Near Maricopa Kinks Self Into Knots

MARICOPA (Ariz.) Aug. 13. (Exclusive)—Something new in the way of heat effect is noted on the Southern Pacific Phoenix line, north of this junction. About 100 feet of rail at Sacate siding, insufficiently ballasted, kinked itself into knots, carrying the ties with it. On this same line, in former years, the phenomenon occurred of one rail creeping many feet to the northward and the other rail traveling southward. This is understood to be less likely with the laying of heavier steel.

LODGE FIRE IN YOSEMITE MINIMIZED

Park Company President Contradicts Reports of Serious Conflagration

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 13. (Exclusive)—A fire of undetermined origin, which started in the soda fountain of the Lodge at Yosemite National Park at 6 o'clock this morning and which was extinguished before it could do much damage, led to reports that the main dining-room unit had been destroyed and that 400 guests fought the blaze to keep it from spreading to surrounding bungalows.

D. B. Tresidder, president of the Yosemite Park and Curry Company, who was at the lodge at the time, today communicated with the company's local office, contradicting these reports.

"Yosemite Lodge is operating as usual despite a small fire this morning," said Tresidder in a telegram, "with the exception that American plan guests were served luncheon in the Hotel Sentinel dining-room.

Tresidder explained on the telephone that the lodge dining-room was spattered with water while the fire in the soda fountain, across the porch from it, was being put out. Employees were busy with mops, he said, and preparations were being made to serve dinner there.

There was no alarm among the guests, Tresidder said, few of whom were aware that there was a fire until some time later.

VALLEY CITY PEOPLE HAIL SHORTRIDGE

Senator in Bakersfield Speech Says People Are Behind Administration

BAKERSFIELD, Aug. 13. (Exclusive)—Senator Shortridge addressed an enthusiastic gathering of citizens at the City Hall here tonight. He was introduced by Dr. George G. Sabichi, former president of the National Exchange Clubs. Arthur S. Crites, chairman of the Shortridge-for-Senator Club, also spoke.

Senator Shortridge was met at Delano this afternoon by a delegation, headed by Traffic Officer Snell and given convoy to Bakersfield after speaking in Tulare at noon.

Senator Shortridge said today: "I find the situation most encouraging. Everywhere that I have been I note a strong disposition among Republicans to stand squarely behind President Coolidge and his administration, and incidentally I note that my position as a supporter of the administration is receiving unqualified indorsement.

"The effort to throw dust in the eyes of the voters by creating issues that do not exist is without avail. If my observation is correct. As the representative in the United States Senate of the people of California, I have obeyed their mandate and the mandate of my party, and on that record I stand unfalteringly."

WILSON SUBSTATION IN OPERATION TODAY

PLANT NEAR MERCED WILL HOOK UP CENTRAL AND NORTHERN LINES

MERCED, Aug. 13. (AP)—The Wilson substation, built at a cost of $750,000, to connect the power transmission lines of the Great Western Power Company with those of the San Joaquin Light and Power Company at Tuttle, near here, will be placed in operation tomorrow.

A transmission line 105 miles long was built to bring the Great Western power from Lake Almanor in Plumas county from Brighton, near Sacramento, to the Wilson station, where it connects with the San Joaquin power line, brought from the mountains of Fresno county. Another line brings in power generated at the Exchequer Dam of the Merced Irrigation District.

The connection enables the two companies to interchange power throughout their territory in Northern and Central California.

BIRTH CONTROL DECLARED NEED

Doctor Advances Argument at Institute of Politics

Step Asserted Inevitable Due to Population Growth

Editor Sees Hopeful Sign in Religious Unrest

WILLIAMSTOWN (Mass.) Aug. 13. (AP)—Limitation of births is "inevitable" because of the fact that the population of the world is doubling every century, Dr. Joseph Krismky, a Brooklyn physician, said today at the Institute of Politics.

Asserting that primitive tribes resort to infanticide, unless famine and plague intervene, to present a too-rapid increase of their races, Dr. Krimsky said civilized people should fact the poblem by resorting to birth control.

Dr. A. C. Dieffenbach, editor of the Christian Register, speaking on religious matters, tremed the current religious unrest and controversy as one of the hopeful signs in this country. A union of the churches, he said, would never occur, "for as we rise in the scale of vital intelligence differences beom finr and not fewer."

Criticising modern aspects of the church, he said that "from Roman Catholic to Unitarian religion is big business."

SIDELIGHTS ON WORLD

Rondom opinions and reflections gleaned as sidelights on the world of today at the Institute follow:

"Automotive engineers have estimated the saturation point for automobiles in this country at 25,000,000."—Dr. Harrison Howe, editor Industrial and Egineering Chemistry.

"The house of the near future will be built of steel, with Duco finish, bakalite furniture, composition floors, artificial leather floor coverings and Rayon draperies."—Dr. Gerald Wendt, dean of Penn State College.

"If I were called upon to pay homage to one deed of statesmanship in the post-war world, and that deed due to the very character of the man who did it, I should, without a moment's hesitation, choose Mr. Stanley Baldwin and the agreement about the war debt to the United States."—Dr. Mendelssohn Bartholdy, member of the German peace delegation of 1919.

"It requires the output of two full-grown rubber trees for a whole year to supply the rubber for one automobile cord tire"—Dr. Roger Adams, professor of chemistry, University of Illinois.

RUSSIAN MENACE

"It is the weight of the Russian menace from the north and west in China that forms by all odds the strongest safeguards against the danger of war between Japan and the United States, the initiative for any such war would have to come from Japan; and even the Japanese military party could not afford to go to war against America, turning their backs to Russia; while they could go to war with Russia and safely turn their backs on America"—H. K. Norton, student of the Far East.

"War will ultimately be the very father of eternal peace. The evolution of humanity clearly shows that its last aim is the simplification of tongues, nationalities and States"—Dr. A. T. Pavichich, Jugo-Slavian Minister to the United States.

Investigation has revealed that the dyes in hosiery after the outbreak of the war, of which American women complained so loudly of being the product of American dye substitutes, were in reality German dyes used for casket cloth and consequently unsuited to the rigors of light and water they were subjected to"—Dr. Harrison Howe.

Argentine Flyer Completes Dash to Buenos Aires

BUENOS AIRES, Aug. 13. (AP)—Benardo Duggan, Argentine sportsman, who began a flight from New York to Buenos Aires on May 24, arrived at his destination at 3:53 o'clock this afternoon.

Duggan, began his 5920-mile flight to Buenos Aires from New York on May 24. He had hoped to make the trip in about three weeks, but poor weather, several accidents and a delay of several weeks in South America held up the flight.

Durgan, who is a wealthy sport enthusiast, was accompanied by Capt. Eduardo Olivero, Italian air ace, and Lieut. Ernesto Campanelli, the mechanic who accompanied Francesco De Pinedo on his notable flight from Rome to Tokio. Their seaplane was Italian built.

Klan Requests Parade Permit in Washington

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13. (AP)—The Ku Klux Klan would like to parade again up Pennsylvania avenue from the peace monument at the foot of Capitol Hill to the Treasury. A formal request for a permit to march September 13 has been received by Maj. Hesse, superintendent of police, from L. A. Mueller, who signed himself as the "representative in the District of Columbia" of the organization.

The letter said that members would march in full regalia with visors up, as they did on August 8 of last year. The permit will be issued, Maj. Hesse said, as a matter of routine.

Commissioner Cuno Rudolph said that two weeks ago Klan representatives asked him informally about parading while masked, but that he told them they could not do so.

LODGE WILL NOT SHARE IN MEXICAN HOLIDAY

TUCSON (Ariz.) Aug. 13. (Exclusive)—The local lodge of the Alianza Hispano-Americano has passed resolutions refusing participation in the Mexican Independence Day celebration, September 15 and 16. This action, according to members, is due to the religious situation in Mexico and to the distress following recent floods in the interior of the republic. The Alianza is a beneficiary and social order, with headquarters in Los Angeles and Tucson and with many branches along the international border and in Mexico. Local Catholic clergy have delivered special sermons on the Mexican situation.

TWO IDENTIFIED IN HALL HEARING

Pig Raiser Points Out Pair Accused by State

Woman Says She Saw Them at Scene of Murder

Asserted Poisoning at Home of Pastor Described

SOMERVILLE (N. J.) Aug. 13. (AP)—A woman pig raiser's story discredited four years ago is the basis of the State's hope for indictment of three persons charged with the murder of Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Mills, his chorister.

That was revealed today at the first session of the hearing of Henry D. Carpenter, New York and New Brunswick millionaire, and Willie Stevens, brother of the rector's widow, arrested yesterday and held without bail. Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall, the widow, is at liberty on $15,000 bail, also charged with the double slayings.

The pig raiser, Mrs. Jane Gibson, said by State Senator Alexander Simpson, special prosecutor directing the renewed investigation, to be the State's chief witness, pointed in turn to Carpenter and Stevens and pitching her voice in a dramatic key, said they were the men she saw at the crabapple tree the night of September 14, 1922. Carpenter, she said, "had something shiny in his hand just before four shots were fired."

SAW MURDERESS

As the crowd in the courtroom gaped with surprise or roared with laughter, Mrs. Gibson, who said she was a former circus rider and could not tell the place of her birth, told her story of how, while following a wagon which she thought contained corn stolen from her, she came upon the murderers and saw their faces in the glare of automobile headlights. A moccassin which she said she lost in Debussey's Lane, near where the bodies were found, was produced as evidence and identified by her. The circumstances of its finding were not revealed.

The gasps of surprise came when Mrs. Gibson pointed to Carpenter, who smiled back at her, and Stevens, who was not petrturbed by the accusing finger pointed at him.

Charlotte Mills, daughter of the slain chorister, told of an attempt to poison her mother. Recalling conversations with her mother, Charlotte, who was only 15 years of age, at the time of the murders, said that Mrs. Mills had gone to the Hall home one afternoon to look at the flowers in Mrs. Hall's garden.

BECAME ILL

Invited to have tea, Charlotte said her mother related, Mrs. Mills noticed that she was the only one drinking the tea. After taking several sips she became violently ill and did not recover for several days.

To the astonishment of the spectators, a brother of the late Azariah Beekman, first of the four prosecutors to sift the evidence in the romantic killings, marched down an aisle of the courtroom carrying under his arm the asserted missing documents for which the State has been searching for weeks.

This witness, Marcus Beekman, was denounced by Senator Simpson for asserted trying to auction the documents to the highest bidder. Beekman denied he had tried to sell the papers. He had found the papers among his brother's effects.

ALCATRAZ PRISONER'S INTERVIEW REPUDATED

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 13. (AP)—Henry Diekman, a prisoner in the army disciplinary barracks on Alcatraz Island, in San Francisco Bay, did not admit knowing anything about the Hall-Mills murder case in New Jersey and has refused to discuss the case.

This was the positive assertion here tonight of Col. William Morrow, commandant of the barracks, when questioned concerning an interview appearing in a San Francisco newspaper today in which Diekman was quoted as saying that he knew many of the details of the murder and that he had accepted money "to shut up and get out." The newspaper publishing Diekman's purported interview said it was in possession of information to the effect that Diekman's asserted knowledge of the murder was so important that arrangements were being made to return him to New Jersey.

Col. Morrow's summarization of the case was:

"Diekman has not discussed the Hall-Mills case with anyone, not even myself. The purported interview of yesterday was not given out by Diekman in this prison. Two newspaper men asked Diekman, through me, to answer a series of questions. He refused to answer the questions and laughed at the reported interview appearing in the newspaper."

Capt. H. D. Ayres, adjutant on the island, confirmed Col. Morrow's statement, reporting:

"Diekman said he still wishes to maintain his attitude of silence in the case. He does not wish to discuss the matter with anyone."

The Ontiveros were separated by court decree three years ago. Mrs. Ontiveros said she accidentally encountered her husband in Santa Barbara several weeks ago at the probating of an estate left by his father.

MECHANICAL COTTON PICKER BEING TESTED

HARLINGEN (Tex.) Aug. 13. (Exclusive)—Trial of a machine for picking cotton has been made with encouraging success on a farm near Harlingen, according to officials of the local branch of the International Harvester Company, by which the machine is owned. The machine is of the spindle type. In tests it removed all cotton from open bolls, without injuring green bolls or stalks.

Some twenty-five separate patents are included in the assembled picker.

The machine was brought here for tests because cotton in this section opens earlier than in any other part of the country. The manufacturers are working on a mechanical picker that will sell for less than $1000.

Tugs With Log Rafts in Tow Conclude Race

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 13. (AP)—Probably the most unusual race in the history of Pacific shipping came to an end at 10.30 a.m. today when the Red Stack tug Sea Scout entered the harbor from Astoria towing a log raft containing 9,000,000 feet of logs and cedar poles.

The tug Sea Ranger, with a second log raft in tow, arrived from Astoria at midnight Thursday, but as the Ranger cleared the Columbia River port twenty hours ahead of the Scout, the latter vessel won the 1200-mile race by a margin of nine hours and thirty minutes.

NEWS OF SOUTHERN COUNTIES

LACK EVIDENCE IN STRANGLING

Further Action Against Man Accused Must Wait

His Statements Insufficient Grounds for Charge

Brown Changes Mind and Will Plead Not Guilty

SANTA BARBARA, Aug. 13.—Further action against Philip H. Brown, 31, the man who has confessed that he attacked and strangled to death Mrs. Ollie B. Russell in her rooming-house at 425 Chapala street, June 24, must await the arrival in Santa Barbara of J. Clark Sellers, Los Angeles criminologist, it was announced by Police Chief Lester Desgrandchamps.

The hazy and irresponsible statements made by Brown regarding the strangulation of Mrs. Russell, as well as attacks on eleven other women in Pacific Coast cities, are insufficient evidence on which to base the murder charge under which he is now held, and the case must be approached from a different angle, the Chief said.

Mr. Sellers now is in Seattle on another case, but is expected to come to Santa Barbara as soon as he is free, according to Dist.-Atty. Ward. In the meantime Brown will be held in the City Jail and efforts to check back on his statements will be made, the prosecutor said. It is not intended that Brown shall be arraigned until the case assumes more definite form, and evidence connecting Brown with the case, aside from his own admissions, is secured, the District Attorney added.

Brown was questioned by Ward and the Chief at great length this morning, but the only new developments were that he apparently changed his mind regarding his own actions in the case, and declared he will plead not guilty and demand a jury trial. He also admitted that his real name is Paul Cameron, as had been previously discovered, and it is expected that he will be known by this name hereafter.

Still believing Brown is demented, both because of his peculiar mannerisms and statements, and because he is an escaped patient from the State insane asylum in Patton, Dist.-Atty. Ward intends to have the prisoner examined by a sanital board in the near future.

"Big Tops" for Burbank Auto Show Now Up

BURBANK, Aug. 13.—Burbank's auto show site looks like a summer circus ground this week with the "big tops" up and a small army of workers busy decorating and preparing exhibits under their snowy roofs, for the show is to be given the 18th to the 22nd inst.

Manager Bob Cavenagh has booked several acts of vaudeville including the ten California Poppies, singing and dancing beauties. Others are Sally Rand, Charleston dancer and famous beauty; the King Boys, taking off Gold Dust Twins; Spark Plug, Topsy and Eva and the Billbrew quartet, vocalists from Warner Brothers radio stage.

Features of the auto show are the new school busses and the oldest automobile in this part of the country, for which a search is now under way.

MAYOR OF ANAHEIM RESIGNS POSITION

ANAHEIM, Aug. 13. — Giving ill-health as his reason, Perry Mathis, Mayor of Anaheim, resigned his office last night. W. D. Leonard, elected to the Board of Trustees in the spring election, has been named his successor. Mathis, who is a prominent rancher, assumed office in the spring of 1925. It is understood that he plans to give up all his civic activities and spend the majority of his time on his ranch. Mathis denied today that friction with other members of the board had anything to do with his resignation. Complete harmony has reigned on the board, according to Mathis. A. Curtis Case, insurance man of Anaheim, has been appointed to fill the vacancy on the board. The other members are A. W. Franson, L. E. Miller and W. D. Grafton.

KINGS COUNTY HAS NO PRESIDING JURIST

HANFORD, Aug. 13.—The county of Kings this week is moving along as is also Hanford, its county seat, without a single judge on the bench of the Superior, Justice or Municipal courts, yet peace and good order prevail. Judge Vanzant of the Superior Court is holding court temporarily in Los Angeles city, Recorder Johnston is away on vacation, Justice Edgar Irwin has just resigned and moved to Oakland, and Justice McClellan, the only acting township justice, is vacationing in Santa Clara county. For several years this peaceful county gained much undesired notoriety through a succession of murders and the present quietude with no county or city judiciary functioning forms quite a contrast.

LONG BEACH BOARD QUITS

Bombshell Dropped Into Council Chamber When Civil Service Commission Resigns in Body

LONG BEACH, Aug. 13.—This city's civil service board, composed of three members, threw a bombshell into the Council chamber today when City Clerk Waughop read the resignations of the entire personnel. The signatures of Commissioner George McCaughan, chairman, and Commissioners R. H. Shippey and A. L. Parmley, were attached to the resignations.

Although no reason for the sudden decision of the civil service commissioners to resign was included in the letters of resignation, it was generally claimed around the City Hall that the action is due to dissatisfaction on the part of the commissioners over the action of the City Council forcing the civil service commission to accept rooms in the old City Hall now being remodeled to take care of the increasing growth of municipal departments.

The members of the commission, friends pointed out, are busy business and professional men who have been serving the city without compensation for a number of years. It is apparent, it was said, that their desire to resign is based on their belief that the City Council has shown them very little consideration in the matter of office accommodations.

Similar complaints have come from various municipal departments through the city. The Long Beach City Hall, scarcely three years old, proved to be inadequate for the rapidly increasing volume of city business when it was first opened. Added to the many municipal offices, the new building was thrown open to patriotic organizations in no wise connected with the city and to the Federal government and the county.

Until recently branches of the County Assessor, County Clerk, Superior Court, Internal Revenue and other outside interests have been housed in the new municipal building.

Recently, however, the City Council directed that the old City Hall, a decrepit two-story affair on the opposite corner which has stood empty for three years, be put in condition for occupancy by various county and municipal departments.

Into it has been moved the city probation department, the internal revenue office, the county assessor's branch, the State labor commissioner's deputy, the civil service commission and other departments, with a view to relieving the pressure in the new building. There remains in the new City Hall, however, the elaborately fitted lodge rooms, dining rooms, kitchens and club rooms of the patriotic organizations and these occupy an equal half of an entire floor.

Council members expressed surprise at the action of the civil service commissioners in resigning and expressed the hope that they would reconsider their decision to resign before September 1, the date on which their resignations are to become effective. No action was taken by the Council on the question of providing more adequate quarters for the civil service commission in the City Hall.

Mayor Rejects New San Diego Bond Ordinance

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 13.—San Diego plans for the development of water received a severe jolt here today when Mayor John L. Bacon returned to the City Council without his signature the ordinance calling for a special election on September 21 to enable the citizens to vote on a proposed $2,000,000 bond issue to build dams at the Sutherland and San Vicente sites on the San Diego River.

In returning the document, the Mayor denied that he intended to veto the ordinance, but offered his objections to the bond-issue plans.

City Attorney S. J. Higgins said: "There is no doubt in my mind that the Mayor's act amounts to a veto, in so far as it is possible for the Mayor to veto a city ordinance calling a bond election."

The Mayor replied: "This is the only way I can register my protest against the ordinance and the policy of the City Council."

The ordinance was passed unanimously by the Council the 3rd inst. and, according to the city charter, it can be passed over the Mayor's veto by a two-thirds vote of the Council.

FIRST OF LUCERNE'S GRAPES SENT EAST

HANFORD, Aug. 13.—The first shipment of muscats and malagas from the Lucerne's 1000 acres near this city, went out today for New York and from now until September 1, next, a carload or more a day will go out packed in four-basket crates. The naturally sweet muscat, a raisin grape, now has sufficient sugar content for the table, but shipments for juice purposes will not commence till September 1. M. D. Hopper, who owns the Lucerne, shipped 350 cars of fresh grapes east from there last year and expects to equal that record again this year, packing and shipping under his own brand. Prices for grapes locally, are good, ruling several dollars per ton higher than the average price last year.

BURBANK SETS NEW MARKS IN BUILDING

BURBANK, Aug. 13.—Burbank's impetus in building activities shows no indication of slackening. So far this month reports from the building department at the City Hall shows a score of permits taken out valued at approximately $150,000 with prospects for $400,000 to $500,000 more before the end of the month. If these prospects materialize August will be the banner month in the history of the city.

PARACHUTE TESTS FROM PLANE HELD

Flyer Alights Few Seconds After 1100-Pound Torpedo Dropped at Same Time

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 13.—With a score of naval officers as spectators, including Capt. S. H. R. Doyle, commander of the naval air station, North Island navy airmen today dropped a 1100-pound dummy torpedo, to which a 20-foot parachute was attached, from an altitude of about 2000 feet.

Leaping from the same plane at the same time the torpedo was dropped, K. V. Harrison, aviation mechanic's mate, successfully glided to the ground, landing a few seconds after the dummy torpedo had reached the earth. Both Harrison and the torpedo landed near the North Island mooring mast.

The test, the first of its kind conducted on the Pacific Coast, is preliminary to the final experiments scheduled for the 24th inst. at Inglewood, when a 50-foot parachute will be used to drop an airplane out of the clouds. If the final tests are successful, planes will be equipped with parachutes of this kind to avoid accidents.

Several cameramen, representing newspapers and motion-picture concerns, witnessed today's test.

Three Youths Confess Series of Car Thefts

FRESNO, Aug. 13. — Telling an amazing tale of motor-car thefts in cities all the way from San Diego to Grant's Pass, Or., J. G. Thalman, E. V. Thalman and D. P. Humphrey, Fresno youths, confessed to Fresno police the theft of more than a score of cars, eight of which were taken in Fresno, police said today following the return of the youth from Richmond, where they were arrested for the theft of the car of Ralph Cole, Fresno newspaper man.

Their plan was to steal a car in one city and drive it to another city where they would abandon it after draining it of gasoline and then steal another car with which to continue their journey.

Winding up in Los Angeles in possession of two stolen cars nad with the police of Los Angeles close on their trail, the youths said they abandoned both cars on the street there and walked and begged rides to Fresno, where they stole several more cars from time to time, two of which they wrecked.

CHALK HILL GRADE ROAD OPENS TUESDAY

GIRARD, Aug. 13.—The new road over the Chalk Hill grade will be opened Tuesday, it is stated here today. The new stretch of highway already is passable but has not yet been officially opened to traffic. The improvement has cost in the neighborhood of $65,000 and will be of great benefit to motorists using Ventura Boulevard between Valley points, Girard and beyond. A long detour has been necessary while the work was going on. The grade is about a mile and a half in length. The old road had many sharp turns which were dangerous to traffic. All of these have been modified and some of them eliminated entirely. The new highway has been surfaced with rock asphalt, and when the fills have settled, will be paved with a permanent surfacing of concrete.

POLICE ARE HOLDING MAN FOR OBSERVATION

VAN NUYS, Aug. 13.—M. D. Durbin, 3075 West Tenth street, Los Angeles, believed by police to be a former inmate of the county psycopathic ward, was arrested at Girard last night and brought to the police station here, where he is being held pending the arrival of county officers. Local police assert that Durbin escaped from the County Hospital on Wednesday morning after a row with one of the nurses in which she was said to have been injured. When arrested by officers, Durbin is arrested to have been acting in a queer manner. He was conveyed here for further questioning and observation.

CHANDLER BOULEVARD IS BEING RESURFACED

LANKERSHIM, Aug. 13.—Chandler Boulevard, between Van Nuys and Lankershim is being resurfaced with a six-inch coat of rock asphalt paving. The type of surfacing used is similar to that with which Van Nuys Boulevard south of Chandler Boulevard was surfaced recently. Work was started at the Big Tujunga bridge about two weeks ago and the paving construction crew is working toward the Van Nuys section. To date something more than a half-mile has been resurfaced.

PEACE REIGNING AFTER ELECTION

Harmony Restored Following Steele Recall

Defeated Faction Urging All to Co-operate

New Mayor Outlines Plans of Administration

SANTA MONICA, Aug. 13.—Indications of restored harmony in Santa Monica's political affairs were observable on all sides today, following the recall election in which Herman Michel defeated J. C. Steele for the mayoralty post.

Michel was sworn in as Commissioner of Public Safety and ex-officio Mayor by Commissioner Frank A. Helton at 5 p.m. today. A large crowd was in the Council room and in front of the City Hall, and the Municipal Band played welcoming music.

Steele's campaign supporters, including Judge Fred H. Taft and other leaders in Santa Monica community affairs, urged co-operation of all parties in the recent issue, for the further betterment and prosperity of this city. The spirit to get behind the new Mayor is manifest, and his supporters today were forecasting early action on certain changes in city government. The appointment of a City Planning Commission is one of the important items which will come before the City Commissioners.

As an aftermath of the undercurrent of bitter feeling held beneath the surface during the recall campaign, Steele this morning declined to shake hands with Michel when they met in the City Hall. By mutual consent of both sides, this personal hostility was checked prior to the voting, under a unique unwritten agreement, seemingly, that there should be no mud-slinging to besmirch Santa Monica's name.

Michel has announced that his election necessitates retirement from other important posts he holds as head of the Marine Bank, Santa Monica Dairy Company, Imperial Ice Company, and Santa Monica-Ocean Park Chamber of Commerce. Otto Fehling, vice-president of the commerce body, who has been acting president since June, during Michel's trip to Europe, will lead the chamber until the November election, according to officials of that organization.

The new Mayor stated that he intended to form the new Planning Commission of men who are thoroughly acquainted with Santa Monica's needs as one of the most rapidly growing cities on the Coast. He intimated no changes in the personnel of the Public Safety Department, of which his election makes him commissioner.

Luck on Friday Thirteenth Not True to Form

PASADENA, Aug. 13.—Friday the Thirteenth, contrary to its reputation, was lucky for the throng of 115 motorists hailed into Police Court today for violating a traffic ordinance last Sunday by using the south entrance of Brookside Park as an exit when the thoroughfare was labeled a one-way street.

Judge Dunham delivered a lecture to the crowd before him, which taxed the courtroom to overflowing, and then announced that the customary $5 fine would not be assessed this time. All future violators of the ordinance will pay $10, however, he declared.

Last Sunday was the first day that arrests were made for violations of the one-way street rule. More than 200 violators were tagged, about half of them forfeiting bail.

SELF-DEFENSE PLEA WINS HIS ACQUITTAL

RIVERSIDE, Aug. 13.—The self-defense plea of Nick Corselli, 64-year-old Italian who has been on trial here for the murder of Frank Daniere on June, 18, last, won his acquittal following three hours' deliberation by a jury late last night. Nine women and three men composed the jury. Corselli, on the witness stand late yesterday, declared that Daniere, during the course of a heated argument, "went for his gun," and died because he was beaten to the draw.

ATTEND PARK MEET

ALHAMBRA, Aug. 13.—City Commissioners Campbell, Archer, Mills, Nuzum and Carroll, City Manager M. H. Irvine and City Clerk R. Bruce Wallace will leave tomorrow morning by motor for Yosemite National Park, where they will represent Alhambra at the annual meeting of the California League of Municipalities starting Monday and lasting six days.

FIRE AND POLICE PAY UNCHANGED

New Pasadena Budget Drops Proposed Boosts

But Few Officials Are Given Salary Increases

City's Expenses to be Little More Than Last Year

PASADENA, Aug. 13.—Hopes of the police and fire department that their petition for increases in salary averaging $25 a month would be granted by the Board of City Directors were crushed today when the governing body of the city adopted the municipal budget for the ensuing fiscal year without including the proposed pay boosts.

Despite the fact that the appeals of the police and firemen, made after similar increases were granted in Los Angeles, were ignored in the budget, every municipal department received an increased allotment over last year with the single exception of the park department.

Total municipal expenses for the coming year, as outlined in the approved budget, will be $2,607,939, a substantial increase over the $2,389,219 of the previous twelve months. The budget was finally approved by the Directors after weeks of pruning and trimming of estimate, following a preliminary series of cuts made by City Manager Orbison.

Only a few officials received salary increases. The City Manager gets $7500, a boost of about $1000. City Prosecutor Archie Orme received the largest proportionate increase, from $1975 to $4200. City Building Inspector Walter Putnam was granted $4800, about $1000 more than last year. Health Officer Warren F. Fox will receive $4200, as against last year's $2147.

The Directors' decision on police and fire-department salaries comes as a great disappointment to the men in question and it is considered likely that steps seeking a general election on the question may be instituted.

Tong Asks Court to Halt Sheriff in Gambling War

SANTA BARBARA, Aug. 13.—The Hop Sing tong of California today brought suit against Sheriff James Ross, seeking an injunction to prevent county law enforcement officers from raiding tong headquarters in Guadalupe without first obtaining a search warrant and asserting that the Bing Kong tong has threatened members with harm.

Judge J. L. Hudner, presiding in Superior Court, issued an order for the Sheriff to appear and show cause on September 8 why a permanent injunction should not be issued.

"This action is purely an attempt upon the part of the Guadalupe orientals to secure legal protection for their gambling operations," said Sheriff Ross. "The building they want protected has been raided many times during the last year, and much gambling is done there."

FRIDAY THIRTEENTH CONVICTION SAVES $13

MONTEREY PARK, Aug. 13. — Because he picked Friday, the 13th, as the date of his trial before a jury here on a traffic charge, Austin R. James, San Gabriel, today saved $13. Convicted in Police Judge Gufuano's court, James asked for leniency, saying he was supporting his mother and sister. Apparently admiring nerve in picking Friday, the 13th, for the hearing, the judge suspended $13 of the $25 fine assessed.

The heirs include Edward B. McLean, proprietor of the Washington Post, and Truxton Beale, former American Minister to Persia. The estate is said to be valued at approximately $2,000,000.

MYSTERY STILL UNSOLVED

Investigation Into Death of Redlands Woman in Lake Dropped on Request of Husband

SAN BERNARDINO, Aug. 13.—The inquiry into the mysterious death of Mrs. Emil Pray, of Redlands, in Green Valley Lake in the San Bernardino Mountains, Tuesday, was discontinued today at the request of the husband, it was announced by Chief of Police Walter L. Thomas, of Redlands.

The halting of the inquiry leaves unanswered the question of how Mrs. Pray reached the lake on the crest of the mountains, and whether she drowned or was stricken with a heart attack. Her body, clad in a bathing suit, was found floating in the lake at 4:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, five hours after she had last been seen at her home in Redlands.

Pray, the officer announced, refused to give consent to a post-mortem operation and announced that he was satisfied with the Coroner's inquest verdict of accidental drowning.

Pray previously told the officers he was unable to account for his wife's leaving home; that she did not own a bathing suit, and that she could not drive an automobile. Pray reported to the officers that his wife was missing Tuesday night, a few hours after her body had been found. The body was not identified until it was brought to San Bernardino by the Coroner.

Neighbors reported to officers that a short, stout man was seen near the Pray home in an automobile Tuesday morning at about the hour when Mrs. Pray left home. Chief Thomas said he later learned that Mrs. Pray did not leave home in the car that this stranger was driving, offsetting this theory.

How Mrs. Prey reached Green Valley, whether she was alone, and whether she drowned are questions unanswered in the case. In reporting his wife's disappearance to the police, Pray said he feared she might have become mentally deranged.

The bathing suit was later identified as one owned by Mrs. Pray's sister. Mrs. Pray's body was found floating in the water and had been dead but a comparatively short time. The fact that the body was floating provoked doubt as to whether she drowned or died, probably from a heart attack in the high altitude.

Funeral services for Mrs. Pray will be held Saturday in Redlands.

PURCHASE VALUABLE TRACT

Pelanconi Vineyard in Glendale to Be Subdivided as Demand for New Homes Arises

GLENDALE, Aug. 13.—Negotiations have been concluded by which the Pelanconi vineyard, one of the most valuable tracts in Glendale, is to be subdivided and placed on the market, the deal involving a figure that is quoted by Walter B. Davis, who will launch the new project, at $1,000,000.

One of the most important features of the plan prepared by Mr. Davis is that which calls for the cutting of a new eighty-foot boulevard from the intersection of Grandview avenue and San Fernando Road, running diagonally through the 200-acre ranch toward Glendale, connecting at Glen Oaks Boulevard with the Pelanconi tract, and thus affording a main traffic artery that will make the city easily accessible from the northwest section and offering an outlet where none of sufficient size now exists.

The Pelanconi ranch is one of the most valuable tracts in this region, and efforts have been made many times in the past to secure it for subdivision, but the owners have hitherto refused to consider any offer for their property.

The Glendale Union High School Board of Trustees was recently granted an option on a portion of the tract on which to erect a high schcool that will serve the northwest section of the city, but the decision as to whether the high school will be placed on this ground or on another tract under option in the immediate neighborhood has not yet been reached.

Mr. Davis states that the tract will be subdivided gradually as the demand for property there justifies it, and that a general plan that will develop the property along modern lines with due regard for the future growth of Glendale will be followed.

Member Denies Railroad Rule of Commission

ORANGE, Aug. 13.—Leon Whitsell, former member of the Orange County Board of Supervisors as representative of the Orange district and now a member of the State Railroad Commission, declared in an address at the meeting of the Rotary Club here that the commission is not under the power of the Southern Pacific Railroad and the public utilities of the State.

He made the declaration in refutation of statements he asserted were being made during the present campaign that the commission was dominated by influences of the railroads and utilities.

In support of his assertion he pointed out that the commission had reduced the gross revenues of the railroads and utilities, since the high-rate period of the war, many millions of dollars. The income of the railroads, he said, had been reduced from $22,000,000 in 1921 to an average gross now of $15,000,000.

He asserted that by action of the commission in adjustment of rates of utilities and the carriers, reductions were made in 1923, totaling $20,000,000, and in 1924, $24,000,000, with a follow-up in 1924 of a reduction of $2,000,000. He asserted that in 1923 the commission saved the people of the State $3,000,000 by refusing petitions of utilities for an increase in rates.

Two Children "Begging Ride" Hurt in Crash

OXNARD, Aug. 13.—Allan Covarrubias, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Covarrubias here, is in Ventura Hospital suffering from concussion of the brain. Physicians stated today that he has a good chance to recover.

Allan, with his brother Robert, 5 years of age, was picked up by James Jordan, a delivery boy, who was delivering an order southeast of the city. About five miles from town on the Oceanview highway he lost control of the car and plunged into a ditch.

Passing autoists brought the youngsters here.

JAILED EXTORTIONIST FACES NEW ARREST

VENTURA, Aug. 13.—Grover Cleveland Marshall, alias Harry Quelda, who completes a fifteen months' jail sentence on September 18, growing out of his having written a letter to Marco Hellman, Los Angeles banker, demanding $25,000, faces arrest by a United States Marshal as he steps to freedom from the Ventura County Jail, it became known today. The nature of the warrant upon which the officers are to take him is not known. Marshall was sentenced to jail in June, 1925, after he had entered a plea of guilty to having attempted to get the money from Hellman. Even during his confinement Marshall again attempted to get the money by writing a second letter to Hellman, requesting the $25,000, it is said.

MURDER-CASE ACCUSED ASSERTS MIND BLANK

VENTURA, Aug. 13.—Asserting that his mind was a blank for several hours preceding the shooting, Jose Sandoval, on trial for the murder of Julia Lopez, today took the witness stand in his own defense, testifying as to the events of the day of the killing and to the quantity of liquor which he consumed on that day. The day's session was marked by repeated interruptions by Asst. Dist.-Atty. Hollingsworth, who objected to the manner in which Attorney Gould was examining Sandoval. In the majority of cases Judge Rogers, who is hearing the case, sustained the objections, and urged that the questions be more direct.

Placentia New City Plans Take Forward Step

PLACENTIA, Aug. 13.—Plans for incorporation of Placentia into a city of the sixth class took a forward step yesterday when it was announced by the Chamber of Commerce that J. H. Wents of Los Angeles, owner of the twenty-acre tract at Chapman and Bradford avenues, had agreed to include all of his property in the proposed city limits. The decision came after several weeks of negotiations with Wents, carried on with the citizens' committee on incorporation, appointed some time ago, and Tom Pickerill, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

Wents stated to secretary Pickerill and E. J. Menard, who interviewed him at his Los Angeles office, that he did not want to hold back the growth of Placentia. The decision of Wents to allow his land to be included opens the way to the Orange Wood tract and the Placentia grammar school. The members of the school board have already expressed themselves as willing to include the school property, and it is understood that a large majority, if not all, of the citizens living in the Orange Wood tract are in favor of incorporation.

An unofficial survey of the voters in the subdivided area of Placentia was made a few months ago and this showed approximately three-to-one in favor of the project.

POLICE HOLD PASTOR

Rev. Phillip Goodwin, Seized as Forger, Denies He Confessed

SANTA ANA, Aug. 13.—An asserted admission by the Rev. Phillip Goodwin that he was the "Samuel Reeder" who indorsed and cashed more than $100 in checks drawn upon the account of Joseph J. Patterson after the Los Angeles bond broker had been murdered in Santa Ana Canyon last March, was today denied by Rev. Goodwin.

The alleged admission was supposed to have been made while Goodwin was in Los Angeles with Chief Criminal Deputy Sheriff Ed McClellan, who was attempting to identify Goodwin as Reeder. Today at the County Jail the accused declared that he had made no such admission. During the course of an interview with press representatives, however, he made a statement that was understood as an admission that he had at one time had a $130 check drawn upon Patterson's account in his possession. When asked to repeat the statement he hastily said that he meant that Reeder had shown him the check.

Authorities investigating the Patterson murder, express the belief that "Reeder" is a fictitious person. Goodwin, however, has stated his intention of producing him in court.

HELEN WILLS BADLY BEATEN BY MOLLA MALLORY

CHAMP MAY NOT DEFEND NATIONAL TENNIS TITLE

Berkeley Girl Advised to Withdraw From Tourney After Second Defeat, 6-8, 6-4, 6-2

RYE (N. Y.) Aug. 13. (AP)—Helen Wills, women's tennis champion, indicated tonight she might withdraw from the national title play next week as a result of her defeat today in the semi-finals of the New York State tournament by Mrs. Molla B. Mallory, 6-8, 6-4, 6-2.

The three-time title-holder, admitting she was very tired after the first set, cited her father, Dr. C. A. Wills of Berkeley, Cal., asking whether she should continue her play. Her participation in the championship next week is expected to hinge on his reply.

Molla Mallory

Although her tennis today was far superior to that she displayed last week at Seabright, N. J., where she lost in straight sets to Miss Elizabeth Ryan, the California girl was unable to successfully combat Mrs. Mallory's fine court covering and the intense heat.

After holding her own with the former title-holder in the first two sets, the champion wilted in the final set. Three times Mrs. Mallory broke through her service with well-placed drives across court and along the side lines, the New York woman profiting by Helen's tendency to net the ball repeatedly on low shots.

Pair of Hits in Third Only Threat of Stars

Fullerton Proves Duck Soup for Bay City Team

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 13.—Friday, the thirteenth was a lucky day for the Missions fore led by Bert Coles, they broke their losing streak and plastered a 7-to-1 defeat on Hollywooy. Walter Schmidt having been released as manager, Deeny Murphy had charge of the Missions on the field, and he got away to a winning start as a manager.

BERT COLE

Bert Cole hung up his twenty-first win of the season today and he was boss of the Hollywood bunch all the way. A double by Frederick and a single by Gooch in the third inning allowed the former to score the only run made by Hollywood and those two hits came after two men were out.

Before and after that run Cole made easy work of his opponents. In no other inning did he allow more than one hit.

The Missions made free with Fullerton right from the start, Swanson scoring in the first inning on his own hit, an infield out and Gillespie's safe rap. Hits by Slade, Swanson and Finn scored two more in the fourth. Ike Boone hit the ball over the right field fence on a line in the fifth for his twenty-sixth home-run of the season.

The Missions bunched five hits and scored three runs in the seventh and batted Fullerton out of the box. Finn began it with a home-run; Gillespie hit safely only to be forced by Boone, Jones, McDowell and Slade singled in succession two runs scoring.

A young lad named Bill Murphy relieved Fullerton and the first man he had to pitch to was Denny Murphy. These Murphy boys are not related. Denny went out on a fly to O'Doul and Col was out on a grounder to Lee. Bill Murphy also got by the eighth inning unhurt, although Mickey Finn hit safely his fourth hit of the afternoon.

Cole was such a complete master of the Hollywood outfit that the result was never in dougt after the Missions scored those two runs in the fourth inning.

WOOD, GLEDHILL WIN NET TITLE

erratic. Coen in trying to make the most of his shots made many mistakes, netting many easy shots. Gledhill's long reach aided his decisive volleying, and his opponent's uncanny anticipation of his opponent's returns kept Coen and O'Loughlin constantly at a disadvantage.

Ed Jacobs and C. A. Smith of Baltimore won a brilliantly played quarter-final junior doubles match from Howard Langlie of Seattle and Donald Strachan of Philadelphia, 6-1, 3-6, 10-8.

After the first two sets were divided the two teams settled down for their long battle in the final. Strachan and Langlie took a 3-2 lead and led again at 5-4, having match point at 40-15. Smith and Jacobs here staged one of the most sensational rallies ever seen in a junior match, alternating lobs and fierce passing drives to bring the score to 7-5.

Games then went to service until Jacobs and Smith led at 9-8. The Baltimore pair then smacked Strachan's service to Langlie each time and took the game for the set and match. Langlie cracked badly in the last few games. His usually accurate overheads landed out of the court or in the net.

Berkeley Bell of Austin, whose elimination from the singles yesterday was the biggest reversal of the tournament, paired with James Quick of Dallas, won an easy quarter-final doubles victory in the junior tournament from Robert Muench and Dolf Muehlieisen of Los Angeles, 6-3, 6-0.

Coen's semifinal victory in the boys' singles was expected, but the Kansas City youth had a tough time with Keith Gledhill. Gledhill's net work bewildered the middle-western lad at the start, but toward the end Coen took command of his shots and passed Gledhill with speedy cross-court drives that the Coast boy could not touch.

Wood played his semifinal as if it meant nothing in the world to him and romped through William O'Loughlin of Pittsburgh, the second seeded boy, 6-4, 6-2. Wood was not seeded in the draw, but came through his bracket, leaving a trail of stars in his wake. His brilliant volleying left the tiny Pittsburgh youth standing still and O'Loughlin never had a chance.

AKOL, MAGDALINO ON ATHLETIC CLUB CARD

The Main Street Athletic Club card tomorrow night features Alki Akol and Young Magdalino, Mexican sensation, in the six-round windup. Magdalino is a good boy and proved it by taking Angel De La Cruz and Young Carpintero with ease in recent bouts.

Flyweights meet in the semi-windup. They are Chappy Cruz and Kid Lucerno. Cruz is an eccentric Filipino fighter. Lucerno is a Mexican. It seems that when a Filipino and Mexican are paired, the most action that a fight can give, is the result. Five other four-round bouts complete the card.

SEALS LOSE TO SERAPHS TWICE

Truck Hannah Shows Plenty of Speed for Locals

Cherubs Have Three-to-One Lead Over Cellarites

that he believed the locals were good enough to finish well up among the major-league teams. Had Boss Wrigley seen the Angels Thursday when they lost to the cellarites by a 15 to 8 score he might have said something else, but there's no denying that the Cherubs looked like champions yesterday.

The Angels now have a 3 to 1 edge in their top-vs.-bottom series with the Seals and are once more leading the second-place Oaks by nine full games. Unless the Acorns can start whittling down that nine-game lead pretty soon it's liable to be too late.

RUNABOUT HANNAH

Before going further honorable mention must be given Harry "Truck" Hannah, who showed such speed and agility yesterday that his nickname will probably have to be changed to "Runabout." Truck made a truly remarkable one-hand catch of Vargas's low foul over near the stands in the second inning of the first game, falling full length to snag the ball. Taylor tried to take second after the catch when Hannah fell, but Truck arose and threw to Johnny Mitchell in time to complete a double play. Also in the first game Truck scored from first on Hamilton's double and in the second game he even outdid himself by stealing second base. Boss Wrigley called Marty Krug over to his box during the afternoon and asked who that young catcher was.

Wright, who has turned in victories in sixteen of his last seventeen starts and climbed up to the position of premier pitcher of the loop as a result of his streak, was in rare form in the seven-inning nightcap. The Angel medicine man yielded only two hits, one in the first and one in the seventh, and didn't allow a Seal to get past second. Averill and Camilli got the hits and both were doubles to right center.

However, the Seraphs made it easy for Doc to turn in his eleventh straight victory by staking him to an eight-run lead in the first two stanzas. Some loose fielding by Snead Jolley and Eddie Mulligan helped the Angels collect their markers in the opening two rounds, but the Seraphs helped themselves a lot by bunching seven solid safeties off of Lefty Williams's offerings.

ANGELS OPEN UP

The Angels opened up on Williams in the first, Marty Krug, who sits in at third when the opposition pitches southpaws, starting the rally by punching a single to center. Mitchell's infield out put Krug on second. Hood walked. Art Jahn, who got in the second game despite a bum knee, singled to right and Krug scored. Jolley's throw to the plate sailed over Archie Yelle's head and Hood scored before the ball could be retrieved. Jacobs struck out to end the round.

The Angels kept up their run-getting in the second, blasting out five hits, which with two errors, produced six more markers. Ed Hemingway doubled down the left-field line for a starter and Truck Hannah bunted him to third, Truck reaching first safely when Mulligan threw wide to Camilli. Wright's sacrifice fly to Jolley scored Hemingway. Hannah then electrified the stands by stealing second base standing up. Statz fanned for what would have been the third had not Mulligan erred, and then followed four hits and a walk that brought in five more runs. Krug singled to center, scoring Hannah, and Mitchell walked. Hood's hit to right scored Krug and Mitchell and Wally went to second when Jolley fumbled the ball. Jahn doubled to the right-field corner and Hood scored. After Ray Jacobs squirted a single to right that brought Jahn home, Williams was lifted and Knute Hansen sent in to finish up. Ed Hemingway, up for a second helping, popped to Mulligan to end the big inning.

CAPTAIN SCRAGGS

OR THE GREEN PEA PIRATES

by Peter B. Kyne

OUR STORY:

Three Musketeers of the Sea there are; each as strange a character as the other; each subject to the same impulses and emotions; each as stubborn, cranky, impulsive and loyal as the others—meet them:

CAPT. PHINEAS P. SCRAGGS, raffared, muggle-toothed and furtive, master-owner of the steamer "Maggie" and a freighter of vegetables to San Francisco Bay.

ADELBERT P. GIBNEY, a large imposing, capable but socially indifferent person of a somewhat adventurous experience who is cursed with too much brains and imagination and a thirst. He holds a license as chief mate of steam, any ocean or tonnage and is chief mate of the Maggie.

BARTHOLOMEW McGUFFEY is a good engineer gone wrong. He nurses the ancient junk in the Maggie's engineroom with loving care and is a fit mate for the other two.

Gibney and McGuffey, while waiting for Captain Scraggs' return to the Maggie, are yarning of the adventures of their youth. The Maggie is parked in her berth on the San Francisco docks.

Gibney is telling of an experience in South Sea Island trade with one "Bull" McGinty, in which numerous San Franciscans were involved, during the course of which Gibney becomes the bridegroom of one Pinky, queen of the island of Aranuka.

"Just after we leave Suava," said ex-King Gibne, to McGuffey as they sat on the dock recounting the former's experiences with Bull McGinty and the cannibal trade, "we butts into a mild little typhoon, an' Bull scuds before it under bare poles, with just a wisp o' a jib to steady her. An' when the brotherhood was pea-green with seasickness I goes down into the bilges with a big auger an' scuttles the ship. In about two hours the brother at the wheel begins to complain that she's heavy an' draggin' like blazes, an' he fears maybe her seams has opened up under the strain.

"'I shouldn't wonder a bit,' says Bull McGinty, 'she's been jumpin' like a dolphin', and he goes below to investigate. Two minutes later he prances up on deck like a lunatic.

"'All hands to the pumps,' he yells; 'there's four feet o' water in the hold.' Aside he says to me, 'Gib, my boy, you're a jewel. Not a drop of water in that forward compartment where we piled the trade.'

"It was a terrible sad sight to see the seasick Brotherhood of the South Seas staggerin' below to the pumps. We had four pumps, an' feelin' that they might be able to pump her dry too soon, I had removed the suction leather from two of them. What a howl went up when Bull McGinty, roarin' like a sea lion, announces that all hands is doomed, because two of the pumps is nix comarous!

"Just about that time we ships a sea or two, and all hands lets go the pumps and starts to pray or weep or whatever they was minded to do under the circumstances. In the general excitement I slips below an' plugs up one hole, an' forces two men, at the point of a revolver that wasn't loaded, to pump ship. They just managed to hold the water level, while up on deck Bull is tearin' his hair an' cursin' somethin' frightful.

"Well, Mac, we kept that thing up for two days an' two nights, while the gale lasted, an' when we finally gets under the lee of an island, all hands are for throwin' up the sponge an' goin' back home. Somehow or other, the expedition don't look so entician' as it did at first.

"We cleared away both whaleboats and landed the brotherhood on the island, where there was a wharf an' a big tradin' station. I forget what they call the place, but steamers touch there regular. Me an' Bull McGinty and the Chinaman stayed aboard, pumped out the ship, fixed the pumps, and plugged the holes in her bottom so nobody coul find out.

"Then we figures out the price of a passage back to Frisco, second-class, for the whole bunch, an' me an' Bull goes ashore with a big sack of Chili dollars an fixes it up with all hands to let go an' call it square for the ticket home. They wasn't feelin' as sore as you might imagine.

"None o' them had the brains or the spunk of a mouse, and besides we'd give them a mighty good time of it, all things considered. So, to make a long story short, we picks up a crew of half a dozen black boys, pulls the two whaleboats back to the ship, ups hook and sails away on our legitimate business. We divides the spoils between us, an' my share is eleven thousand cash an' a half interest in th' trade.

"We do a nice business in shell an' copra, an' such, an' in Papeete we sell our cargo to a Jew trader an' clean up fifteen hundred each additional on the voyage, after which Bull declares he's tired of hucksterin' around like any bloomin' peddler, an' we make up our minds to do a little blackbirdin'.

"Was you ever a blackbirder, McGuffey? No? Well, you didn't miss nothin'. It's a dirty business. You drop in at a island, an' you invite the native chief aboard an' get him drunk, and make a contract with him for three years on some other island, or on the coffee or henequen plantations in Central America, and you promise them big money and lots of tobacco, and a free trip back when their time is up.

"What labour you can't get by dealin' with the chief, you shanghai 'em, and once in a while you can make a bully good deal, particularly in the New Hebrides and New Guinea, after a fight when they have a lot of prisoners on hand which they're goin' to eat until you come along an' buy 'em for a stick o' tobacco.

"It ain't no fun, blackbirdin', McGuffey. After you've got 'em aboard, they may take a notion to jump overboard and swim back, so you get 'em down below an' clap the hatches on 'em until you're out of sight o' land, an' the beggars howl an' there's hell to pay.

"Me an' Bull McGinty headed for the Gilberts that first trip, an' managed to pick up a fair consignment of labor. We touched in at Nonuti the very last place, which, as I says, is on the island o' Aranuka, right under the Hakatuea volcano.

"There was some strappin' big buck native niggers there that would fet

DREAM CITY ON PACIFIC FADES AWAY

Venice Protestants Have Little Hope High Court Will Save Canals

[Illustration on Picture Page]

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

VENICE, Aug. 13.—More than two decades ago Abbot Kinney had a dream. He visioned a Pacific Coast musical center set along the banks of a picturesque canal system; he visioned villas of Italian construction lining the canal banks; he saw Venetian gondolas gliding beneath artistic bridges along the glassy surfaces of the waterways; he pictured a beautiful and unique colony established within a stone's throw of the Pacific.

The dream was partially realized. The canal system, three miles in length, was built at a cost of hundreds of thousands of dollars, a number of studios and dwellings, modeled after the architecture that lines the banks of the canals at Venice, Italy, were built; gondolas coursed leisurely. But instead of musicians and artists came business men. A midway, with its bath-house, hawkers and hot dog stands, its aroma of sizzling hamburger and many humans, and its atmosphere of commercialism took root on the bank of one of the waterways. The bath-house, the gondolas and the hot-dog stands did much business, and the few artistically inclined persons attracted to the romantic setting departed.

Commercialism killed Abbot Kinney's dream. Now, commercialism would obliterate every trace that might remind anyone of the dream. The City of Venice, before annexation, ordered by ordinance the filling of the picturesque canals that streets may be built along the watercourses, and, unless the Supreme Court reverses a decision of the lower court and grants a permanent injunction against the obliteration of the canals, the Venice canal system will be but a memory.

An occasional gondola glides along the canal, as beautiful today as it was when completed twenty years ago, but the activities of the beach city have moved to the water front, and center about the amusement pier and the typical beach midway which parallels the seashore.

The Supreme Court is scheduled to consider the petition for an injunction in September. Venice citizens protesting the destruction of the canal system are not hopeful of a favorable decision. It seems the legal advantages are all with those who deem paved streets more essential to the future of Venice than picturesque canals.

If the injunction is refused, the work of filling the canals will be started at once, twenty-two years after Abbot Kinney began the construction of his dream city.

CUPID DARES LAWS AND SEAS

Elderly Angeleno Weds London Woman

[Times Photo]

James Boyd and His Bride

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

RIVERSIDE, Aug. 13.—Cupid still laughs at years and oceans and other natural obstacles that rear themselves in his jaunty path.

"When you're in love years and miles mean nothing," says 88-year-old William Boyd, who returned here this week from England with a bride of 56 years.

And Boyd's statement may be extended to include immigration laws. Boyd and his bride, then Mrs. Rosina Llewellyn, an English spiritualistic medium, were victims, so the bridegroom says, of the love-at-first-sight malady, following their meeting at a spiritualistic congress in Europe three years ago. A year later Mrs. Llewellyn attempted to join her aged suitor in the United States, but immigration officers at Ellis Island held her for four months and then deported her.

Cupid triumphed over immigration laws when Boyd went to England married his promised bride and brought her triumphantly through the immigration cordon as his wife.

NEW HOUSE DAMAGED BY NIGHT GANG

Contractor Says Wrecking Followed Threat by Union Delegate to Workmen

The Sheriff's office yesterday opened an investigation into the wrecking of a house in process of construction at 1121½ North Hicks street, City Terrace, in the Belvedere section, presumably by persons who resented the employment of nonunion carpenters.

The matter was reported yesterday by M. Kahn, contractor, who is building the house for Mrs. Clara Davis. Kahn, who lives a few doors away from the house he is building, reported he was awakened in the small hours yesterday morning by loud sounds emanating from the partially completed structure.

He said, according to the Sheriff's office, that he saw men in the house, and the noises were caused by demolition of parts of the property. He shouted, he said, and the men departed, using an expensive automobile.

Deputy Sheriffs Freer and Mayhew reported the intruders had destroyed the carpentry work in the building. They were highly efficient in this, he said, confining their efforts to ripping out the lathing and other carpentry labor.

The officers reported that a union delegate had told Kahn that unless he employed union labor he would never get the house completed.

What to Wear, One Thing They Didn't Consider

When Pierce C. Van Doren, Beverly Hills architect, and Norma L. Solomonson felt like taking a ride, they did not let the question of "what shall I wear" delay them any, according to a divorce complaint filed yesterday by Attorney Griffith Jones in behalf of Mrs. Monica C. Van Doren.

On one occasion, Mrs. Van Doren declared, Mrs. Solomonson was attired for the ride in nothing more substantial than a night gown and a bath robe. Last June, she complained further, Van Doren bought a costly motor for Mrs. Solomonson.

Mrs. Van Doren said she had heard her husband make an appointment with the other woman by telephone. She asserted that Van Doren's mother is wealthy and that he had threatened to obtain money from her with which to contest the custody of their minor children should the wife file a divorce suit.

TWO "LAND CRUISING" PARTIES ARRIVE HERE

After having visited various points of interest en route from the East, two "land cruise" parties of the Raymond & Whitcomb Company arrived in Pasadena yesterday and are to remain until tomorrow afternoon when the visitors will depart over the Southern Pacific for Santa Barbara, Monterey Bay and then to Yosemite.

Nearly 100 well-to-do tourists from eastern cities are members of the two touring parties being combined here. They are traveling in one of the de luxe "land cruise" trains fitted with gymnasium, recreation hall and other down-to-the-minute features. The visitors were taken to points of interest in and near Pasadena yesterday and today will visit Los Angeles, Hollywood and neighboring cities.

FIVE MEN IN JURY FRAUD REARRESTED

Former Charges Dismissed and Accused Held on New Indictments Returned

The five men indicted by the grand jury on forgery charges involving the cashing of checks returned unused to the County Auditor's office, were taken before Municipal Judge Blake yesterday and the previous complaints against them dismissed. They were immediately rearrested on the indictments by Deputy Sheriffs Bent, Kelly and Pennywitt and taken to the County Jail. They will be arraigned before Judge Keetch Monday on the indictments.

The men under arrest are Robert D. MacLeod, employed as a clerk by Macleod & Macfarlane, county grand-jury auditors; Clarence A. Watson, Leo Kuranoff, Richard Sides and Lon Chapman. It is charged that MacLeod, through his employment as a clerk for the grand-jury auditors, had access to the County Auditor's office, and got hold of checks which had been sent out and returned uncashed. These checks when cashed brought in about $2000, it is charged.

Watson, it was reported, admitted to deputy sheriffs it was planned to get hold of about $50,000 in securities in the County Treasury.

Mrs. Pinkston, Champion Diver, Seriously Ill

Mrs. Clarence Pinkston, the former Betty Becker, Olympic and national diving champion, was declared seriously ill yesterday at St. Vincent's Hospital, where she became the mother of twin babies on Thursday. Alarmed by her condition, the husband spent most of yesterday at her bedside.

Late yesterday afternoon physicians at the hospital said that Mrs. Pinkston was doing better after spending an uncomfortable night. Mr. and Mrs. Pinkston were married after a romance which began when they were both members of the 1924 American Olympic team. Mrs. Pinkston is an Atlantic City girl. Six months ago she won the national diving championship at Miami. Mr. Pinkston is in the automobile-finance business in Hollywood.

At the hospital it was said the twins, a boy and a girl, are doing fine. The boy weighs three pounds and two ounces and the girl four pounds and two ounces.

Production of First National Increased Here

Ninety per cent of First National's film productions will be made at the organization's new seventy-five-acre studio in Burbank, Robert Lieber, president, declared last night following his arrival from New York.

This decision is final, Mr. Lieber said, and will be followed by the moving to California of several units now producing at the First National studio in New York. In the past year approximately 70 per cent of the company's pictures were made here.

Accompanying Mr. Lieber west was Richard A. Rowland, vice-president. They will spend the next several days at the Burbank studio, viewing pictures made there during the last two months, and in discussing production plans with John McCormick, general manager of production at the West Coast studio, and with M. C. Levee, general executive manager.

CARR AND LAMBERT A RIOT AT GROVE

"Partners Again" Is Hilarious Fun of the Good Old Obvious Kind

[Reprinted from late edition Friday Times]

BY HERBERT MOULTON

Dutch comedians and Irish comedians have come and gone, but the Hebrew funsters go on forever.

Such is the case, at any rate, if the audience reactions to the antics of Alexander Carr and Eddie Lambert are to be taken as a sign.

They appeared last night at the Orange Grove, where "Partners Again," disclosing the latest commercial activities of the well-known Messrs. Potash and Perlmutter, was presented to an audience that apparently was fully cognizant of the fact that it was supposed to laugh.

And they did.

I don't know whether they laughed more during the first act, or the second, or the third. There was no way of telling. It was too continuous for that. More continuous, in fact, than any show I have witnessed in years.

"Partners Again" has that happy ability to create infectious mirth. It does it to such an extent that many of its situations, which are not of themselves humorous, get laughs solely because they come at moments when it is time to laugh again.

As mirth-purveyors par excellence Carr and Lambert are, of course, the outstanding features of the show. Without them it would probably be a sorry affair, not because of any lack of ability on the part of the other members of the cast, but due to the lion's share of the interest accruing to the characters of Abe Potash and Mawruss Perlmutter.

Lambert was the surprise of the show as Potash. His performance was not by any means flawless, nor, for that matter, were those of any of the others, with the possible exception of Carr.

Lambert, however, so consistently remained in character that one would suspect him of having played the role for years. He made Abe an excruciatingly humorous type at times and brought out a real humanness at others.

This is, I understand, his first attempt in this line of theatrical endeavor and after viewing his performance the question naturally arises: Why has he been clowning around all these years?

Carr, of course, lends a great deal more finesse to his work. He depicted Mawruss for years in the East, with the late Barney Bernard as his partner in commerce. He does not provide as many guffaws as Abe, perhaps, but he deftly paves the way for them.

The supporting cast is adequate, which is all it needs to be in a piece like this. Several individual performances are quite good, notably that of Allen Connor, as the former "pocket-picker" and ultimate inventor-hero of the plot.

Carlotta Miles, whose chief claim to fame, aside from a certain capitalization of her name in connection with a well-known brand of automobile tires, has been that she began her stage career as a leading woman, is cast as the stenographer-heroine.

Unfortunately, Miss Miles does not have a great deal to do and is left somewhat embarrassingly alone while the business goes on.

Max Pollock is good as Pasinsky, the man who started the partners in the automobile business, and Anne Brody does well in the small part of Rosie Potash, Abe's wife.

Tilly, the hypochondriac, I did not like. No one else did either, though, and I presume she was necessary for a few laughs. Lula Wasley portrayed this picture of weeping-womanhood-with-a-perpetual-pain, but it was considerably overdrawn in spots.

Included among those appearing in supporting roles were Oscar Guy Briggs as Schenckman, Harry Shutan, Maurice Cytron, Edward B. Cassidy and Harry Von Meter.

"Partners Again" is a show for which I cannot predict an immediate popular success. It will in all probability take some time for it to catch on, particularly at this season of the year.

At the same time, though, when—and if—it does begin to click, there is every chance that it will settle down to a profitably long run.

M.-G.-M. PREPARES TO MAKE 'GREAT GALEOTO'

ECHEGARAY'S WIDELY KNOWN PLAY NEXT VEHICLE FOR RAMON

Preparations have been completed for the filming of "Great Galeoto," Jose Echegaray's drama of modern life in Spain, which John M. Stahl will direct with Ramon Novarro and Alice Terry, in the leading roles.

Production will start in a few days on the picture, laid in modern Spain. The tale is one of modern society, based on the perils of gossip and rumor. Novarro plays a young Spanish grandee and Miss Terry the youthful wife of an aged millionaire, close friend of the younger man.

How gossip, by linking names of the two younger people together finally precipitates a cataclysm, forms the dramatic theme.

Echegaray, the playwright, is one of Spain's most famous dramatic writers. In his career he has written fifty-eight plays.

CHARACTERS' IMPORTANCE GROW

Pilgrimage Play Inspires Cast

Helen Jerome Eddy and Reginald Pole

ENTHUSIASM is the dynamo of all human energy.

And it is the enthusiasm of everyone associated with the Pilgrimage Play that is contributing the force to the success of this drama.

Naturally, at first, the Pilgrimage Play means just another dramatic role to the actors. But slowly, as the interpretation grows in the consciousness, each and everyone feels an exaltation and before long they are viewing it with new eyes. They become crusaders, rather than actors; crusaders who welcome the opportunity of reviving the world's knowledge of the Savior's acts and words.

To anyone who has watched the development of the Pilgrimage Play during its seven summer seasons, there is no doubt that it is this splendid enthusiasm that has built it into a permanent institution.

Nightly, Sundays excepted, this sacred drama depicting the earthly career of Jesus, is told in dramatic form in the open-air Pilgrimage Theater among the hills of Hollywood. A large cast of players give a devotional interpretation to the biblical story, while the Smallman A Cappella Choir of forty mixed voices supplies the musical accompaniment.

The seventh annual season of the Pilgrimage Play is now drawing to a close.

NICOLA MYSTIFIES TRICKERY GRADUATES

Nicola, transformist, magician and illusionist, coming to the Hill-street Theater tomorrow after having spent twenty-six years in Europe, Asia and Africa, during which time he astounded even the most veteran craftsmen and sorcerers. He was captured by the Orpheum circuit immediately after his engagement at the New York Hippodrome.

Nicola, an American, it is said, has not only mastered all the magic of the makers, but has invented mysteries of his own that the graduates of foreign trickery have not solved and perhaps never will.

CASTING DIRECTOR STAYS AT PARAMOUNT

Fred Datig, the man who knows 50,000 faces, was signed to a new five-year contract yesterday as casting director for Famous Players-Lasky Corporation West Coast studio, it was announced by B. P. Schulberg, associate producer.

For the past year Datig has been casting all of Paramount's productions. Prior to that time he served as casting director for Universal for twelve years.

U.S.C. MAN IN PICTURES

"Vic" Orsatti, halfback on U.S.C.'s champion football squad, is breaking into the movies, via a current First National production, "Ladies at Play," which Alfred E. Green directs. Orsatti plays a "bit" in support of the featured players. Doris Kenyon and Lloyd Hughes. He secured his chance through B. P. Fineman, production chief of the unit, who is a football "fan."

SISTERS AT MAJESTIC

The Angelus Sisters, dancers trained by Ernest Belcher, are two of the featured terpsicorean artists in "Monkey Business," the Olsen and Johnson revue at the Majestic. The dancers, formerly known as Tula Belle and Ebba Mona, played two seasons at the New York Hippdrome.

GOOSSENS REVEALS ENGLISH CHARM

Mme. Schnitzer and Young Composer Stir Large Audience to Enthusiasm

BY ISABEL MORSE JONES

The British folk-songs of Delius and Grainger conducted by Eugene Goossens, brilliant young English composer, were the keynotes of the successful concert at the Hollywood Bowl last night. Germaine Schnitzer contributed to the enjoyment of the evening by a scintillant performance of the time-honored Tschaikowsky concerto in B flat minor.

Goossens has that essential requirement of first-class conductors, an absolute knowledge of his scores. Being himself a composer of high rank other composers are in good hands when he wields the baton. There is no slighting of phrases, no slurring of rhythms. He is young in his enthusiasms and his conducting has that virility born of love and understanding of music for its own sake. Dignity and a graceful bearing are strong assets in his favor, and although he has been in America four years he has not yet acquired the baneful habit of "showing off."

Opening with the Polonaise from "Eugen Onegin" by Tschaikowsky, brilliantly played, Mr. Goossens followed it with a Dance Rhapsody by an English composer he admires greatly, Frederick Delius. It is not one of the most subtle of Delius's compositions but attractive rythmically and filled with that simple charm of the British countryside which old fork-tunes evoke. Except for the frequency of its repetitions, this number might become as popular as Grainger's "Molly on the Shore," which captivated the audience later in the evening. One felt that Goossens was just the person to give them both the piquant sparkle which made them delightful.

Germaine Schnitzer played the technically difficult Tschaikowsky concerto well. Her rhythms were so clearly defined and her melodic phrases kept so well within bounds that she and the orchestra seemed like one instrument. The orchestra's part in the success of the performance was a large one. The audience recalled the soloist many times.

Mrs. Leiland Atherton Irish announced the interesting fact of a benefit concert for the Philharmonic Orchestra fund to be given Monday, the 23rd inst., with Mischa Elman as soloist. It has not been decided who is to conduct as yet, as the orchestra management is waiting for news as to the possible early return of Walter Henry Rothwell in time to participate in the performance, which it is hoped will add a large sum to the benevolent fund of the orchestra he has labored to perfect.

Finds Portable Organ Not Easy to Manipulate

In spite of her well-known accomplishments as a pianist, Doris Kenyon found yesterday that playing one of the portable organs used on motion-picture sets to supply music for the scenes isn't easy.

However, she managed to supply a creditable version of "Valencia," for musical "atmosphere" in a scene of First National's current production, "Ladies at Play," in which she is co-featured with Lloyd Hughes. Louise Fazenda and Philo McCollough, who were the players on the camera firing line at the moment, declared that Doris's music enabled them to emote quite effectively.

These organs operate not only with the hands and feet, but have a knee pedal device for varying tone and volume that is more complicated than those on the old-fashioned organ.

ALL WALKS OF LIFE IN MOTION PICTURES

CRISP HAD EXPERIENCE AS SCOTLAND YARD MAN PREVIOUSLY

They come from all walks of life to crash the portals of success in the motion-picture industry. Donald Crisp, who will direct Marie Prevost in "Man Bait," her next starring picture for Metropolitan, was an agent working out of Scotland Yard, British Intelligence Office. He entered this service following a "flitch" in the United States Army during the war in which he was a commissioned captain.

Crisp, however, had been associated with motion pictures many years before quitting to enter the Army and join in the big brawl across the sea. He started with the old Biograph in the days of its adolescence and later became one of D. W. Griffith's directorial assistants. He worked with the latter in producing "The Birth of a Nation" and later in "Broken Blossoms." In the latter he was also one of the featured players.

He was recently signed to direct for De Mille and Metropolitan productions. Filming will start on "Man Bait," within a few days. The adaptation was made by Douglas Z. Doty from the stage play of the same title by Norman Houstan.

FIRST NATIONAL MAY FILM PICTURE ABROAD

NEW YORK, Aug. 13. (Exclusive) Ray Rockett, First National producer, is seriously considering going to England either this fall or late in the winter for the purpose of filming a big "special" for First National, according to current reports in New York film circles.

The picture, which may possibly be filmed in England, is "The Heart of House of Coombs," to be screened from the novel of the same title by Frances Hodgson Burnett. The story has been assigned to Rockett and it is understood he will start production at First National's New York studios within the next three weeks.

RACE DESCRIBED IN GREAT DETAIL

Ramon Novarro

Gen. Lew Wallace, author and creator of "Ben Hur," now seen in its pictorial reincarnation at the Biltmore Theater, is said to have written his novel with the same care with which he, as a lawyer, would have prepared a brief.

Gen. Wallace's masterly description of the chariot race is at once accurate to the smallest detail as well as being dramatically enthralling. He presents first a picture of the chariot and the harness, from which the reader receives a mental picture. The description given by Wallace was followed literally in the filmization.

Critics the country over have proclaimed the chariot race between Ben Hur and Messala as one of the most thrilling scenes to be brought to the screen. Ramon Novarro and Francia X. Bushman are seen as the two rival charioteers.

PARAFFINE BUYS NEW INDUSTRIAL

Interest in Schumacher Wall Board Company Acquired

Hunter-Dulin Closes Deal Involving $1,800,000

Public Financing Expected Within Near Future

One of the most important industrial transactions in recent months was revealed yesterday in the announcement that the Paraffine Companies, Inc., had acquired an interest in the Schumacher Wall Board Corporation, and will be responsible for the management of that concern.

Hunter, Dulin & Co. represented all parties in the deal which involves approximately $1,800,000. It is said that some of the securities will be offered to the public through a syndicate composed of Hunter, Dulin & Co., Cass, Howard & Sanford, Inc., and Schwabacher & Co., of San Francisco.

Under the new regime, A. R. Moylan, who has been associated with the Paraffine Companies for eleven years, will be executive vice-president and general manager of the wall board corporation. The board of directors will be made up of several of the Paraffine Companies' principal officers and men of prominence in other lines of business.

OWNS SEVENTEEN PLANTS

The Paraffine Companies, Inc., an $18,000,000 corporation, own and operate seventeen plants in various cities along the Pacific Coast. Head offices of the corporation, which manufacturers roofing, paints, building papers, floor coverings and allied products, is maintained at San Francisco, although five plants are operated in Los Angeles.

Expansion of the Schumacher Wall Board Corporation since its inception in 1913 has been notable in the Pacific Coast history. During the thirteen years it has developed into the largest manufacturer of plaster wall board and kindred products west of the Rocky Mountains.

John Schumacher, Sr., is credited with being the inventor of plaster wall board. His son, J. E. Schumacher, has been serving as president of the corporation and John Schumacher, Jr., another son, has been secretary. Starting with an investment of $5000, today the corporation owns two fully equipped plants, one on a six-acre tract at Slauson avenue and Fifty-eighth and San Pedro streets, Los Angeles, and the other on a three-acre site at Seattle, Wash.

GROWTH ENORMOUS

Records of the corporation disclose that the 1925 sales represented an increase of 9400 per cent over the sales of 1915. District sales offices are maintained in San Francisco, Seattle and Portland, and warehouses are located in San Francisco, Oakland, San Rafael, San Jose, Stockton, Tacoma, Portland, Seattle, San Diego and Sacramento. Sale of the corporation's products is handled through 1650 dealers in every Western State and in foreign countries.

The corporation has patented all of its processes and machines used in the production of plaster wall board and allied products, so that today it owns some eighty odd patents and applications for patents basic in the industry.

WOOL TRADE SPOTTY

BOSTON, Aug. 13. (AP)—Spotty selling of wool is in progress while mills are offering their new lines to consumers of cloth. There has been considerable inquiry for low South American cross breeds, grading of from 46s down to 36s, corresponding to domestic wools of similar grade. Supplies of this type of domestic wools have become restricted, and users are beginning to survey the market to locate wools of foreign origin not available to fulfill needs.

LIVE-STOCK RECEIPTS GAIN

Stockyards Head Reports Increase of 15 Per Cent For Seven Months; Central District Active

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Speaking for the live-stock industry and, incidentally, for the Central Manufacturing District, J. A. McNaughton, vice-president and general manager of the Los Angeles Union Stockyards, produced some pertinent statistics yesterday bearing on the business situation. His figures on live-stock receipts show that about 15 per cent more cattle and calves were shipped to the Los Angeles market in the first seven months of this year over the corresponding period of last year.

From two points of view Mr. McNaughton's figures are important. They indicate a substantial increase in meat consumption in Southern California, reflecting population growth, and they are evidence of the payment of approximately $15,000,000 to the live-stock producers, most of whom are buyers of goods in this market. Moreover, Mr. McNaughton said, the percentage of increase in meat consumption here has been running at about the same rate since the establishment of the central market in 1923.

CONSUMPTION LARGE

Expressed on an annual basis the figures are even more interesting. About 300,000 head of cattle and calves are killed by the Los Angeles packers each year, which means an average consumption per capita for the city alone of about 300 pounds of beef. In terms of money, the cattle killed here are valued at about $39,000,000.

To illustrate the growth of the Central Manufacturing District and the part the stockyards have played in the development, Mr. McNaughton cited recent statistics of revenue freight carried by the district's junction railway, after having been delivered to or received from the three transcontinental railways serving the district. Approximately 72,000 carloads of live stock and merchandise have been carried in or out of the district in the three and one-half years of the district's existence. Gross freight revenues collected have amounted to about $10,000,000, and the freight transported is estimated to have a value of $200,000,000.

CENTRAL MARKET GROWS

As a central market for the live-stock raisers and meat packers, the Los Angeles Union Stockyards has grown to command an important position in the industry. When the yards were first opened the packers in Los Angeles purchased from 35 to 40 per cent of their requirements through the new market. Now they buy, according to Mr. McNaughton, about 65 to 75 per cent of their cattle here, instead of purchasing directly from the producers.

Receipts fully demonstrate the popularity of the central market with the live stock raisers. Not only by rail but by truck the shipments have constantly increased. Truck receipts are particularly interesting to the stockyards executives, since they indicate the growth of live-stock raising on a small scale on the farms and orchards. Mr. McNaughton and his associates have assiduously encouraged this program in the interests of agricultural diversification. The result is indicated in the increase from an equivalent of eight carloads by truck in July of 1923 to ninety-one carloads in July of this year.

In all, the Los Angeles packers purchased through the stockyards a total of 13,185 head of cattle and calves in July, compared to 6982 in July, 1923. While this illustrates the increasing utilization of the Los Angeles central market by packers and shippers, Mr. McNaughton contends that the State is overlooking a genuine opportunity in not producing more of its meat requirements. Approximately 50 per cent of the amount of cattle purchased for consumption in California comes from outside States.

OSTERLOH RESIGNS AT GOODYEAR

General Manager of Tire and Textile Not Decided on Future Plans

A. F. Osterloh, who has been prominently identified with the industrial development of Southern California through his association with the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company of California and the Goodyear Textile Mills, yesterday announced his resignation as vice-president and general manager of both companies. He will be succeeded as vice-president by H. E. Blythe, who will also continue as general superintendent.

Mr. Osterloh presented his resignation at the meeting of the directors last Tuesday. After taking a short vacation, the first in twenty-four years, he expects to continue in business in Southern California, although he has not determined in what direction his activities will lie. For the present, he will continue to maintain his contact with civic and commercial development through his affiliation with the Chamber of Commerce as a director and vice-president, and as president of the newly organized Industrial Foundation of America, sponsored by the chamber to promote industrial development.

Beginning twenty-four years ago with the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company of Akron, Ohio, as a salesman, Mr. Osterloh advanced through various offices until he became secretary of the company. Following the organization in 1919 of the two subsidiary companies in Southern California, he came to Los Angeles as the executive head of both companies.

E. G. Wilmer, who has been chairman of the board of Goodyear of California and Goodyear Textile Mill's, also resigned last Tuesday. He severed his official connection with the Akron company a few months ago in order to take an active part in the management of the Dodge Bros. motor car company. John W. Mapel was elected president of the two California companies at the annual meeting here early in the year.

METAL MARKETS

CLEVELAND, Aug. 13. (Exclusive)—Daily Metal Trade today says: Strong bullish reports have been revealed by the entry of steel companies into the market. One company in the Pittsburgh district inquiring for 10,000 tons monthly today was quoting a minimum of 2.50 for the furnace grade. No other blast furnace business is appearing.

The strong position maintained by coke producers is due in large part to export demand and possibility of trouble in the same region next spring, and expanding sale of crushed fuel for domestic purposes. Pig iron buying continues at a moderate rate with good prospects for fourth quarter business. Some inquiries already appearing.

The Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company is in the market for 2500 tons of foundry iron for last quarter delivery to Trafford City.

This is at the annual rate of $964,800, as compared with net profits of $810,739 in 1925.

Sales of the company in the first five months of the current year aggregated $2,609,863, or at the annual rate of $6,263,676, as against a total of $4,846,745 in the year ended December 1, last. In the first five months of the year the company charged off $208,743 to depreciation and depletion.

Reserves for depreciation on properties, lands pipe lines, plants, etc., totaled $675,167.72, and reserves for depreciation on leases and producing properties totaled $749,028.98.

IS COMPLETE OIL UNIT

The Rio Grande Oil Company is a complete unit in the oil industry, engaging in the production, refining and marketing of petroleum and its products. The company started business in 1915 in El Paso, Tex., with a borrowed capital of only $5000, and now after eleven years of operation has net assets of $7,785,804.40. The territory served embraces the States of Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, California and Old Mexico. In these territories it owns five refineries, two casing head gasoline plants, together with numerous wholesale and distributing stations throughout the entire Southwest territory.

At Signal Hill the company owns leases covering 47.2 acres of proven oil land on which there are at present fourteen producing wells. In the Los Cerritos field the company was fortunate in the purchase of eight producing wells before it became generally known that a deeper sand existed in the field. These wells are now being deepened. The company owns leases on 2000 acres of semi-proven lands in Ventura county, adjoining the Ventura avenue field. A well is in the process of drilling and gas has been experienced at levels from 600 to 900 feet.

TEXAS HOLDINGS

In Howard county, Texas, the company owns approximately 1230 acres of leases. Chalk No. 1 well in this field was recently brought in and is now making about eighty barrels daily and about 1,000,000 feet of gas. Four other wells are being drilled in this vicinity. Approximately 100,000 acres of scattered semi-proven oil leases are also owned in the State of Texas.

The Rio Grande Oil Company since 1917 has paid 350 per cent in stock dividends and cash dividends have been paid during the past five years averaging in excess of 10 per cent per annum. The company is now paying dividends at the rate of 6 per cent per annum, and with the excellent position it now occupies, reports are current on the street that an extra dividend will be paid during the current year.

Oversupply of Labor Gains as Workers Arrive

Usual increased arrivals of workers during the summer months from Arizona and Imperial Valley are increasing the oversupply of labor of all classes in the Los Angeles district, including Long Beach, Santa Monica, Ocean Park, Venice, Pasadena and Riverside, according to a report just issued by the Pacific Coast division of the United States Department of Labor.

Practically all plants are running, part time operations prevailing in woodworking plants and in factories manufacturing clothing and boots and shoes. Work in pump shops has slackened, but this is offset by more employment in oil tool shops. Machinists are fairly well employed. Public service corporations are cutting their forces.

New building in Los Angeles includes twelve apartment houses, seven residences, five schools, warehouses, factories, railroad shops, moving picture houses, a hotel and a hospital. Approximately 9000 workers will be employed on the extensive building program here. A surplus of labor in all building trades was reported. Work is now under way on the first unit of a street storm drain system.

A decline in home building was noted in Long Beach. In Riverside $1,300,000 has been voted for school construction to start within thirty days. The harvesting of deciduous fruits will commence soon in Los Angeles county and the harvesting of the walnut crop will start September 15. Present indications are that the local supply of help will be sufficient.

MOTORS MELON LARGEST

Disbursement of 2,900,000 Shares to Stockholders of General Declared Best on Record

NEW YORK, Aug. 13. (AP)—Stockholders of the General Motors Corporation are nearly $600,000,000 better off in shareholding today as the result of an extra dividend declaration acclaimed as the largest disbursement of the kind ever made.

The corporation yesterday declared a common stock dividend of 50 per cent, authorizing an increase of 2,900,000 shares. The only comment by the president, Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., was, "The outlook at present is satisfactory."

The directors decided to have the regular quarterly dividend of 1 3-4 per cent declared yesterday, apply to the additional stock as well as to that outstanding. This decision gives the stockholders about $5,250,000 more in cash than they would ordinarily receive on the next disbursement.

The stock dividend orings the present outstanding issue of approximately 5,800,000 shares to nearly 9,000,000. The stock has no par value, but on the basis of the closing quotations of 203½ on the exchange yesterday the market value would be about $1,800,000,000. The highest quotation which the stock has yet shown was 225 3-4.

After giving effect to yesterday's dividend, General Motors will have, besides the 9,000,000 shares of common, $104,827,000 of 7 per cent cumulative preferred, $2,175,700 of 6 per cent cumulative preferred, and $3,029,900 of 6 per cent debenture stock.

General Motors sold on March 29 at 113 1-4, the lowest level of the year. Most of the gain since that time has been recorded in the past few weeks. On the 2nd inst., Thomas C. Cochran, a partner in J. P. Morgan & Co., was quoted as predicting a 100-point rise. Since Morgan & Co. are known to be heavily interested in General Motors, the stock rose nearly 12 points to 201 at once, although it dropped slightly when Mr. Cochran denied he had authorized the prediction.

COMPANY FOUNDED BY DURANT IN 1908.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13. —The prosperity of the General Motors Corporation, which has placed it at the top of the country's industrial enterprises on the basis of share capital, enabled it to eclipse the earnings of the United States Steel Corporation for the first time, and enriched its stockholders by the declaration of a 50 per cent stock dividend, has been one of the outstanding financial achievements of recent years.

Founded by William C. Durant in 1908, the General Motors Corporation has twice been removed from his leadership, and is now under control of the Du Pont family and banking interests headed by J. P. Morgan & Co. Originally incorporated in New Jersey, the company was reorganized in 1916 through the formation of the present General Motors Corporation of Delaware. Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., has been president since 1922.

Widespread interest was aroused in the first sale of the new General Motors stock, listed on the curb market on a "when, as and if issued" basis, at a price of 134. This would indicate a corresponding price for the present shares when they sell ex-stock dividend.

Dos Nuevas Incidencias en los Asuntos Religiosos de Méjico

WASHINGTON, Agosto 12.—Dos incidentes han hecho que se dirija hoy la atención del ministerio de Estado hacia Méjico, en los momentos en que se preparaba el ministro Kellogg para marchar rumbo al campamento de White Pine, a hablar con el Presidente Coolidge sobre problemas internacionales. El embajador Sheffield informó de que había interecedido con el ministerio de Relaciones mejicano en favor de otro norteamericano encarcelado, el señor J. H. Grande, de Los Angeles, que fue arrestado hace una semana, y está detenido, sin oírsele, por un delito no especificado.

En tanto que los funcionarios discutían sobre las consecuencias posibles de ese incidente, el señor Kellogg señaló para mañana una cita, que proporcionará al gobierno norteamericano su primer contacto oficial con la controversia religiosa de Méjico. Se allanó a ver al señor J. J. Flaherty, Caballero Supremo de los Caballeros de Colón, y a recibir de manos de él una moción, que fue aprobada en la reciente convención de la citada orden en Filadelfia, y por la que se pide que intervengan los Estados Unidos para proteger a los eclesiásticos mejicanos en su disputa con el Presidente Calles.

Estos dos asuntos, así como el de las negociaciones incompletas con el gobierno de Méjico, en lo relativo a las nuevas leyes petrolera y agraria, van a ser indudablemente discutidos por el ministro Kellogg con su jefe, durante los cuatro o cinco días que pase aquél en la Casa Blanca veraniega.

Fueron Dados de Baja Aquellos Oficiales que son Caballeros de Colón

CIUDAD DE MEJICO, Agosto 12.—Hoy se dijo aquí que habían sido dados de baja en el ejército mejicano todos los oficiales que son caballeros de Colón. Se ha anunciado que esta medida no obedece a la actual controversia religiosa, sino que es el resultado de un proceso gradual de eliminación, que viene manifestándose desde hace dos años.

Investigación Definitiva en el Asunto de la McPherson

Ayer fue nombrada por el gran jurado, momentos antes de que este cuerpo empezara a disfrutar de dos semanas de vacaciones, una comisión especial, que habrá de estudiar algunas nuevas fases del caso de la desaparición de Aimée Semple McPherson pastora del Templo del Angelus.

El futuro del asunto de la McPherson, en lo que al gran jurado atañe, dependerá exclusivamente del informe que rinda esa comisión especial, al reunirse de nuevo el gran jurado, dentro de dos semanas. En su primera sesión, inmediatamente después de las vacaciones, se ocupará el jurado, antes que nada, en el asunto de la McPherson.

Supose ayer de fuente autorizada que la comisión de que hablamos se compone de ocho miembros del jurado, cuando menos, y que decidiose dar tal paso, después de una larga discusión, como el único que haya de conducir a una resolución definitiva de este asunto, en un sentido o en otro.

La comisión va a trabajar con la más absoluta reserva, y se ha prohibido estrictamente dar a la publicidad cualquiera de sus actos.

Se conjetura que la repetida comisión especial va a interrogar a dos nuevos testigos, que saben algo de la aventura de Carmel. Se trata de un millonario de Santa Bárbara y su señora, quienes tuvieron ocasión de ver en Carmel a la señora "McIntire" el 25 de Mayo último, y que hicieron viaje especial este último domingo para ver en su iglesia a la señora McPherson. Aseguraron, luego de haberla visto en el púlpito del Angelus Temple, que se parecía notablemente a la mujer que vieron en Carmel.

Allied Forces in Germany to be Decreased

PARIS, Aug. 13. (AP)—The Allied troops of occupation in the Rhineland have been reduced from 78,000 to 76,000 since the beginning of the year in consequence of the Locarno security pact, and will be further cut to 62,000 next month in response to urgent solicitations from the German government.

This is the limit of the reduction now in view, it was stated in official quarters today. Of the remaining 62,000 men, 50,000 will be French troops, and 12,000 British and Belgian.

Berlin dispatches last night said the German press is insisting that faith in the Allies' sincerity will be destroyed unless they soon redeem their Locarno promise to reduce the occupation forces greatly.

TEXAS WOMAN HONORED

FORT WORTH (Tex.) Aug. 13. (Exclusive)—Mrs. Maud Medlin, 82 years of age, daughter of John White, the man said to have hauled the timber for the first house built in Fort Worth, was honored at a family reunion near Perrin, Jack county, last week, attended by more than forty persons.

Richard Wagner Honored on Date of His Triumph

BAYREUTH (Bavaria) Aug. 13. (AP) Fifty years ago today Richard Wagner opened the doors of his theater here to the public and inaugurated an epoch in the history of music. In commemoration of that event a series of Wagnerian recitals is being performed throughout all Germany this week and the newspapers carry long appreciations of the composer by musical critics and historians.

The music festival which Wagner staged in 1876 while artistically a phenomenal success, was not a profitable venture and the deficit which ensued prevented its repetition until 1882.

After Wagner's death in 1883 his wife, Cosima Wagner, became the living embodiment of the Bayreuth idea. She is 88 years of age and receives no one except her children and grandchildren and a few selected friends of the old days, such as the former Czar of Bulgaria and Gen. Ludendorff.

Sweden is to have a broadcasting station with two masts 394 feet high and a maximum capacity of fifty kilowatts.

TRAP LAID BY MARKED GOLD LEAF

Canadian in Prison After Robbery of Sluice Boxes at Mine

WILLIAMS LAKE (B. C.) Aug. 13. (Exclusive)—The unique method of stealing precious yellow nuggets from sluice boxes has been tripped up by one of the oldest traps known to police—marked money.

The trap was varied slightly, for instead of using government coins or bills, police officers stamped thin sheets of gold and caught the robber red handed, after he had avoided their traps for more than five years.

Now that Frank Lane DeLong is safely behind prison bars, where he will remain for the next two years, he probably will admit that the most adroit maneuvers can not escape from the long arm of the law.

Back in 1921 officials of the Kitchener mine at Keithley Creek, suspected that some one was robbing their sluice boxes, but they failed to detect the thief. The thefts went on intermittently for more than four years. The thief, evidently believing himself outside the law, became bolder and the thefts became more numerous.

Finally, a plan was hatched to trap the marauder. Several thin strips of gold were marked with the letters "K M." and doubled up to hide the identification marks.

Several days later DeLong walked boldly into the local police station and announced he had made a strike. As proof of his assertion he produced small bottles filled with gold nuggets and dumped them on the table. While one police officer edged toward the door to cut off escape the other sorted through the nuggets until he came to the "plant." When the leaves were unrolled DeLong admitted his guilt.

DeLong said he stole the nuggets by placing a false box under the sluice box, after boring holes through the upper box, which permitted the nuggets to drop through.

Reporter Corners Lady Astor on Visit to Church

BOSTON, Aug. 13. (AP)—Lady Astor came to Boston to go to church. After eluding reporters during her flying visit from Dark Harbor, Me., three days ago, she was cornered by a lone newswriter as she boarded the steamship Camden for the return trip last night.

"You're perfect nuisances and, I have always thought, quite unbeatable. And here just as I am about to get away uncaught you come along and spoil it all. I came down here to go to church and not to be interviewed. It would not look very nice now, would it, to pay my long-anticipated visit to the mother church with 400 or 500 reporters and cameramen hounding my trail?"

Lady Astor added she had long wanted to attend a service at the mother church of the Christian Science faith, which she embraced several years ago. She slipped from the Gibson summer home in time for the testimonial service Wednesday.

The first woman member of the British Parliament is spending several weeks with her sister, Mrs. Charles Dana Gibson, wife of the artist, at her home at Dark Harbor.

Andrews Post Not Sought by Wayne Wheeler

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13. (AP)—Wayne B. Wheeler doesn't want to be Gen. Andrews's successor as chief of the government's prohibition forces. And even if he did he wouldn't take the job under present enforcement conditions.

Replying today to a telegram of inquiry sent him by the Washington Evening Star, the Anti-Saloon League leader said it is contrary to the policy of the league for one of its officials to accept political appointment, and added that he could serve the cause better in his present capacity.

ALEXANDER P. MOORE UNDERGOES OPERATION

PARIS, Aug. 13. (AP)—It is learned that Alexander P. Moore, former American Ambassador to Spain, whose removal to the American Hospital at Neuilly yesterday was ascribed to sciatica, underwent a more or less serious operation on the knee for removal of the effects of an old injury. Dr. Charles S. Bove, who performed the operation, said today his patient would be confined for at least a fortnight.

THIS FRIDAY THE THIRTEENTH BUSINESS HAS QUEER QUIRKS

At thirteen minutes to 12 yesterday, Friday the thirteenth, Associate Justice Works o fthe Second District Court of Appeal completed thirteen years' service as a judge.

He was appointed judge of the Superior Court August 13, 1913, at thirteen minutes to 12.

Friday the thirteenth was a lucky day for Miss Louise Dickover, record clerk in the State Corporation department offices. It was her birthday and thirteen of her girl friends surprised her with thirteen presents. She took the civil-service examination on a thirteenth and was appointed on a thirteenth.

A celebration with the principal anniversary present a black cat and thirteen thirteen-word telegrams of congratulation received, marked the first birthday of the Screen Library of Hollywood on Friday the thirteenth, yesterday.

LILYAN TASHMAN

It proved a lucky day for thirteen ambitious film workers, for a baker's dozen appointments of permanent department heads were made by Brooks B. Harding, president and general manager.

To mark the first birthday of the institution, a birthday cake, made with thirteen eggs, thirteen pints of milk, thirteen cups of flour and other ingredients, supported a single candle.

As an omen of good luck for the library of films, Reginald Barker president of the Motion Picture Directors' Association, sent the black cat for a mascot.

Contrary to most actor's complexes, Edmund Lowe has no sinister superstitions about Friday the thirteenth. He left yesterday for New York en route to London to play his most important role in a motion picture for Fox Films. He will sail on the Mauretania, leaving New York the 18th inst.

EDMUND LOWE

When Lowe entrained yesterday, accompanied by his wife, Lilyan Tashman, actress, he stated that Friday is his lucky day and thirteen his numerical talisman. And he deliberately selected Friday the thirteenth for his departure, feeling it would give him a good start toward success. Incidentally the trip serves as a belated honeymoon for Miss Tashman and Mr. Lowe.

PASADENA, Aug. 13. (AP)—"We should worry," said thirteen delegates from American Legion Post, No. 13, as they started today, Friday the 13th, on their 1300-mile trip to and from the annual convention of the California department. They will be entertained by thirteen Legion posts en route, and will carry thirteen black cats as mascots.

CONTRACT LET FOR DRAIN

The Board of Public Works yesterday awarded the contract for section No. 3 of the Arroyo de la Sacatela storm-drain system to Charles U. Heuser, the low bidder, whose bid was $965,000. This bid was for "storm drain and appurtenances complete, the appurtenances including sanitary sewers and all other work called for by the plans and specifications."

The awarding of this first storm drain contract since the Council's investigation began of the $298,981 "extras" on the West Adams storm drain marks a saving in some cases of more than 200 per cent of the prices charged for additional work now unforeseen and which may be necessary on the Arroyo de la Sacatela storm drain over the prices charged for similar additional construction work on the West Adams and West Jefferson street storm drains.

Since the West Adams investigation started, the Board of Public Works has established a new policy of accepting no unit bids for extra work if these bids exceed the City Engineer's estimate of the unit prices to be charged for this extra work. As a result of this policy the eight bidders on the Arroyo de la Sacatela storm drain bid the same as the board's prices on these units or less. These bidders included Contractor Gadd, who bid and charged $3 a foot for piling on the West Adams job and $3.85 a foot for piling on the West Jefferson street job but who bid $1.20 a foot for piling, if necessary, on the Arroyo de la Sacatela storm drain. Other unit-work bids showed a similar reduction over the prices bid and charged on the West Adams and Jefferson street storm drain.

VILIFICATION BRINGS ARREST

Editor Seized and Accused on McPherson Article

Lawyer for Local Newsboys Discloses Program

Subpoenas May be Issued for Group in Carmel

Coincidentally with the arrest in San Diego of A. R. Sauer, editor of the San Diego Herald, a weekly newspaper, on a charge of sending obscene matters through the mails based on a recent publication containing a virulent attack aimed at Aimee Semple McPherson, it was announced yesterday that nine persons from Carmel, where "Miss X" occupied a bungalow with Kenneth G. Ormiston, formerly radio operator at Angelus Temple, will be subpoenaed as defense witness at the trial of four newsboys charged with selling the San Diego paper in Los Angeles.

Attorney Milton Golden, representing the newsboys awaiting trial before Municipal Judge Stafford on the 23rd inst., declared he will subpoena nine Carmel witnesses and that he will ask that summons for the witnesses be issued today when he presents to the court the necessary affidavits. Mrs. McPherson and Dist.-Atty. Keyes already have been subpoenaed as defense witnesses by Mr Golden.

GIVES HIMSELF UP

Sauer formally was charged with sending obscene literature through the mails yesterday afternoon as the result of action taken by Postal Inspector Sharon of Los Angeles. With his attorney, Sauer surrendered at the Federal Building in San Diego where he was arraigned before a United States Commissioner and his bail set at $5000. At a late hour bail had not been posted although the defendant asserted he would be able to raise the amount within a short time.

The Carmel witnesses to be subpoenaed by Mr. Golden as part of a "sensational defense" for the Los Angeles newsboys charged under city ordinances with selling copies of Sauer's newspaper here will include, the attorney said, the following:

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Benedict, owners of the Carmel bungalow occupied between May 19 and 29, last, by Ormiston and his mystery woman companion; Mr. and Mrs. Percy Parkes, next-door neighbors; Ralph S. Swanson, employee of a Carmel grocery store, who delivered groceries to the bungalow; Daisy Bostick, who rented the bungalow to Ormiston; Ernest A Renkert, who delivered a load of wood to the bungalow for Ormiston, and William Mack, employee of a Carmel realty company. It is possible, also Mr. Golden stated, two new Carmel witnesses, a wealthy Santa Barbara man and his wife, may be summoned as defense witnesses.

KEEPS PLANS SECRET

Mr. Golden declined to disclose the nature of the defense he plans for the newsboys.

"The testimony of the witnesses under subpoena will be very material to the defense," he declared. "I am not at liberty for the present time to discuss my plans but if they develop many sensations can be expected. This action should not be considered as any attack upon Mrs. McPherson or anybody else. There are several things in connection with the defense on which I want to question her."

In view of the attorneys' plans to summon the Carmel witnesses, Mrs. McPherson may face these persons for the first time since several of them told Dep. Dist.-Atty. Ryan her pictures bore a marked resemblance to "Mrs. George McIntire," the name under which Ormiston's companion was known in Carmel.

With the grand jury in a two weeks' vacation, during which a special committee is to make a secret investigation into new phases of the disappearance of the evangelist, interest on the McPherson case yesterday centered on the arrest of Sauer and the coming trial of the four newsboys. Future action in the McPherson case depends on a report to be filed two weeks hence by the grand-jury committee.

NEW LAW FRAMED

The story which resulted in the arrest of Sauer and the four Los Angeles newsboys appeared in Sauer's publication three weeks ago. According to advices from San Diego yesterday, an ordinance aimed at so-called indecent and obscene magazines and newspapers on city news stands is now being drawn by City Attorney Higgins of San Diego, as an aftermath of the McPherson article. The proposed San Diego law is to be patterned after one now in existence in Los Angeles, it was said.

Representatives of the Woman's Civic Center of San Diego visited Mr. Higgins yesterday to announce a war against what they termed objectionable periodicals, their drive receiving impetus from the publication of the McPherson article.

The developments of yesterday, it was pointed out by those in close touch with the situation, may result in Ormiston's producing "Miss X." In his affidavit to Keyes he said he would produce her when the proper time presented itself.

Although reports have been in circulation for the past several days that the identity of "Miss X" is known and that temple representatives have communicated with Ormiston, last heard from in Chicago, the evangelist's attorneys, Roland Rich Woolley and Arthur L. Veitch, yesterday refused to comment on this

Local Student Among First to Pass New Test

Walter L. Reichart of Los Angeles was among the first group of students to be admitted to the University of Pennsylvania under the new scholastic aptitude test, it was announced yesterday by Dr. Karl G. Miller, director of admissions of the university.

The scholastic aptitude test is supplementary to the scholastic record of the student and aims at measuring the ability of the candidate in other terms than school subjects or mere academic marks. It was conducted for the first time this year and was administered by the college entrance examination board in approximately 300 cities for the benefit of more than 9000 students.

Reichart is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Reichart, 1162 Fifth avenue, and is a graduate of the Los Angeles Polytechnic High School. Reichart will enter the architectural school of the university.

IMPROVEMENT ORDERED

The permanent improvement of Norton avenue from Beverly Boulevard to First street has been ordered by the City Council.

Convention's Choice

Conventions may come and conventions may go, but the above photograph is probably the only one of its kind ever taken of an incoming board of officers for any organization. J. R. Hewitt of Baltimore was elected second vice-president of the Retail Credit Men's Association in session at the Ambassador yesterday and the honor found him confined to bed with a temporary illness. The other officers, however, insisted on congratulating him. They are, left to right: E. B. Heller, St. Louis, incoming president; Leopold Meyer, Houston, first vice-president; Ralph W. Watson, Spokane, past president, and David J. Woodlock, St. Louis, secretary and treasurer.

CONTRACT MAY GO TO GLENDALE

Koger, Waterhouse Aircraft Official, Summoned East to Confer on Planes

GLENDALE, Aug. 13. (Exclusive.)—Construction of aircraft for the United States Navy at Glendale on a large scale is seen in the summons received today by Esten B. Koger, vice-president of Waterhouse Aircraft, Inc., at the Glendale Airport, instructing him to report at once at the Navy Department at Washington to confer with navy executives.

Communications that already have passed between naval officers and the Waterhouse organization lead to the belief that orders will be placed with the Glendale concern for the manufacture of several naval ships.

Within recent weeks navy officials at San Diego have carried out a series of inspections and tests of the Waterhouse biplanes and monoplanes and prior to his start for Washington, Mr. Koger went to San Diego for a final conference at the naval training station.

The monoplane made by Waterhouse Company carries two passengers and a pilot, but it is believed that changes in the present specifications will be made to convert it into a scouting and combat plane with room for a pilot and a machine gunner or observer. The biplane, it is believed, will be used for training in both primary and advanced flying classes.

Further confirmation of the plans of Waterhouse Aircraft, Inc., to widen the field of its operations is seen in the announcement that David R. Davis, financier and sportsman of Hollywood, will become allied with the company. Mr. Davis, who is now owner of the American Airplane and Engine Company, Los Angeles, was formerly associated with Donald Douglass, manufacturer of the Douglass planes.

CREDIT MEN END SESSION

Name Officers and Choose Providence for Next Meet; Installment Selling Indorsed

In utter disregard of the hoodoo popularly supposed to attach to Friday the 13th, the fourteenth annual convention of the Retail Credit Men's National Association at the Ambassador proceeded calmly with the business of the concluding session of the convention yesterday, adjourning at 1 o'clock.

Only one untoward incident occurred to remind the delegates that Friday the 13th is a fateful day. This was the illness of the newly elected second vice-president, J. R Hewitt of Baltimore, who was confined to his bed by a sudden attack of lumbago which prevented his being presented at the installation of the new officers.

When the meeting adjourned, Ralph W. Watson of Spokane, the immediate past president, suggested to the officers who had just undergone the ceremony of installation, that it would be a graceful thing for them to call on Mr. Hewitt and extend their sympathy and wishes for a speedy recovery, which was done, much to the gratification of the second vice-president, who said he was feeling much better and hoped to be able to get up and enter upon the duties of his new office in a day or two.

NEW OFFICERS

The newly elected officers, in addition to Mr. Hewitt, were E. B. Heller of St. Louis, president, and Leopold Meyer of Houston, first vice-president. The office of secretary-treasurer of the organization is not elective, this officer being appointed by the board of directors. The present incumbent, David J. Woodlock of St. Louis, has held the post for several years and was reappointed by the board in executive session yesterday afternoon.

The board of directors also selected the place for next year's convention at this meeting, giving the preference to Providence, R. I. Several other cities made a bid for this honor, notably St. Louis, in whose favor Washington, D. C., withdrew from the race only a short time before the delegates convened.

The convention at yesterday's session went on record in favor of installment selling, properly controlled. A resolution on the subject reading as follows, was adopted:

THE RESOLUTION

"Whereas, by statistics presented and sound arguments advanced by L. M. Crosthwaite of Los Angeles and by lengthy discussion of this subject by delegates in open forum and also by rising vote, it is the decision of this convention that installment selling increases the buying power of the public and it is therefore resolved that this convention goes on record as favoring installment selling when and only when such selling is supervised by a competent credit manager and when the life of the contract is not extended to the point where depreciation equals the value of the article purchased."

Another resolution adopted provided for extending the thanks of the association to Andrew Mellon, Secretary of the Treasury, for his recent action in issuing an order demanding that all employees of the Treasury Department pay their bills promptly, with the proviso attached to the order that failure to heed this order would render the delinquents subject to dismissal.

This resolution was the outcome of a discussion at the previous day's session, touching legislation in which the association is interested, during which it was brought out that the organization is desirous of obtaining abrogation of the rule that the salaries of government employees shall be exempt from attachment by creditors. The convention felt that Secretary Mellon's order was a step in the direction of a change in this rule, at least so far as the employees of the Secretary's department are concerned.

Street Work to Wind Up Before Holiday Season

Taking action to clear the downtown streets of obstructions during the preholiday season, the Board of Public Works yesterday adopted a resolution that all utility companies and contractors be notified to complete street-excavation work in the central business district by November 1.

From this date until after Christmas the board will issue no permits for the excavation of streets within the area bounded by First and Pico and Main and Figueroa streets.

This will give the public-utility companies two and one-half months to complete present downtown jobs or new urgent construction work.

Action by the board is in line with the policy of the Traffic Commission, which has taken the attitude that arrangements should be made to give holiday shoppers the maximum of street space during this period.

PARK MUSIC PROGRAM

Continuous music from 2 to 10:30 p.m., is scheduled for West Lake Park tomorrow. At 2 o'clock the Board of Park Commissioners will present Killgrove's Radio Symphony assisted by Altheva Oliver, mezzo soprano, and George Gomlich, tenor. At 4:15 and again in the evening popular and novelty concerts will be given by "Doc" Hostetter and his West Lake Orchestra.

SHORTRIDGE HERE TODAY

Senator Will Be Met This Morning by Committee and Escorted to Long Beach Fete

Senator Shortridge will arrive in Los Angeles at 7:45 o'clock this morning to conduct a final drive in his campaign for renomination to the United States Senate in the Republican primaries.

He will be met by a committee of citizens and leaders of the many Shortridge-for-Senator clubs, headed by John G. Mott, and conducted by automobile to the Hotel Virginia, Long Beach.

This afternoon he will be the principal speaker at the Iowa picnic at Bixby Park, Long Beach, where he will deliver the eulogy of the late Senator Cummins of Iowa, a close friend of Senator Shortridge.

He will be in Southern California approximately one week, returning then to the north to fill speaking engagements.

Senator Shortridge is returning to Southern California after a successful tour of the central and northern parts of the State, where the enthusiasm of his audience indicated his renomination over both his opponents in the Republican party.

COMES HERE MONDAY

He will rest tomorrow at the Hotel Virginia, returning to Los Angeles Monday and establishing himself at the Biltmore. At noon he will deliver an address to the assembled luncheon clubs of Beverly Hills, under the auspices of the Rotary Club, at the Beverly Hills Hotel, where he will be introduced by George Barker, publisher of the Beverly Hills Citizen.

Delegates from Hollywood, Santa Monica and Culver City, representing the Lions' and Kiwanis clubs, the Realty Board and the Chamber of Commerce will be present.

Monday afternoon a committee of the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce will escort him for a trip through Wilmington Harbor. At 6:30 p.m. he will be the guest of honor at a dinner at the California Yacht Club to be attended by officials of the city as well as members of the various civic organizations of Wilmington.

The Lancer

THERE seems to be no way to stifle this sentimental rubbish about criminals.

Even the Associated Press could not forbear to sniffle a little over the hanging of Whittemore, head of a $1,000,000 criminal trust. It had to tell how young he was and how white he looked.

Certainly he looked white. Being hanged is not one of the lighter forms of recreation. But he didn't look any whiter than the helpless victims murdered and robbed by his organized gang of gunmen.

A ONE-SIDED WAR

The day is soon coming when the depredation of criminals will become so terrible that the public will stop weeping melodramatic tears over murderers who are "so young."

Every one caught committing a crime of any kind with a gun in his hands will be executed on the gallows.

It has come to the point where it is an organized and relentless war. But it is a war—singularly enough—where only one side is doing any fighting. The decent people sit around, unresisting, like a lot of chickens, waiting for their necks to be wrung; meanwhile leaking sentimental tears over murderous wretches who are "so young." Sending them tenderly to jail—to be turned loose by parole boards.

WOLF-ADOPTED BABIES

It's a singular tale that comes out of India. . . .

Seemingly authenticated cases of babies being kidnaped by wolves and raised with the pack.

I am not so sure, however, that it makes authentic the ancient tale about Romulus and Remus being reared by a wolf—afterward to found Rome.

Recent archeological discoveries seem to have inclined scientists to an entirely different theory. The "wolf" who raised these two prehistoric real estate subdividers is believed to have been a woman—not an animal.

It seems that the foster-mother didn't remember to be always quite a lady or strictly to observe the best traditions of cave-man society, so she got the name of the "wolf."

KIPLING'S MOWGLI

This story from India does, however, authenticate Kipling's "Jungle Book," and makes Mowgli real. If he were anything other than real to any one.

Kipling may have been a little weak on geography when he had the dawn "come up like thunder out 'er China 'crost the bay" in Mandalay, but he knew his stuff in the jungle tales.

Naturalists are coming every day to his rescue in confirming his stories about the marvelous organization and government of the wolf pack.

ONLY MAN IS VILE

Incidentally, there is nothing very improbable in the raising of a baby by any kind of an animal.

I don't believe there is anything instinctive in the fear or hatred of wild animals for men.

With the exception of the blue fish and certain other low forms of life, there is no animal as low in the moral scale as man. No other animal that would kill ruthlessly and senselessly for the wanton pleasure of killing.

JUNGLE GENTLEMEN

Take him by and large, the wild animal is a gentleman with considerable decent chivalry in his makeup. Which man is most decidedly not.

The old hymn writer said something when he wrote—"where every prospect pleases and only man is vile."

APARTMENT RAID OFFICER JAILED

Policeman Taken in Custody With Hawthorne Resident

House Dwellers Roused from Sleep Thrown in Turmoil

Liquor Demands Said to Have Been Backed Up With Gun

Newell R. Shirley, a city police officer, charged with assault with a deadly weapon and intoxication, and Jimmy Wilkerson of Hawthorne, charged with disturbing the peace, were locked in the City Jail yesterday after it had been asserted the officer had terrorized an apartment-house at 2608 South San Pedro street in a search for liquor.

The arrests were made by Officers Woodby and Thomas of the Newton-street station. Shirley was ordered suspended pending the outcome of his case.

OFFICERS ANSWER CALL

According to the arresting officers, they were called to the house by a telephone message from C. H. Graves, who declared he had been waked from sleep by a pounding on his door and found Shirley and Wilkerson there.

Shirley demanded liquor, according to the officers' version of Graves's story, and when informed that Graves had none, drew his revolver, pointed it at Graves and repeated the demand. Graves, the officers said, said he asked Shirley to wait a minute and he would get some, then retired into his apartment and phoned for aid.

HOUSE IN TURMOIL

While Graves was telephoning, according to the officers' version, Shirley and Wilkerson are asserted to have gone across the hall to an apartment occupied by Mrs. M. M. Dean, a widow, and her daughter, Miss Julia Dean, and repeated the performance, rousing the two women and demanding liquor at the point of the officer's revolver. The whole house was in a turmoil, it was declared, at the time the officers arrived.

Shirley and Wilkerson made no resistance when told they were under arrest and submitted quietly to being taken into custody.

preciation of the delegates for the hospitality and courtesy shown them in Los Angeles, special thanks were extended to L. M. Crosthwaite, chairman of the local entertainment committee, and J. H. Van De Water, general manager of the Los Angeles Retail Merchants Credit Association, for the careful consideration given by them to the details of the guests' entertainment.

Only one formal address appeared on yesterday's program, "Making Taxes Pay Dividends," by Leonard B. Gary of San Francisco, district manager of the United States Department of Commerce.

Mr. Gary stressed the advisability of merchants taking advantage of the work being done by the Department of Commerce to eliminate waste in commerce and industrial activities.

LOSS FROM WASTE

"While our country is prosperous, there is nevertheless a weakness in our business system which prevents this prosperity from developing to its fullest extent and that weakness is waste," declared Mr. Gary. "There is waste from booms and slumps, from excessive seasonal character of production and distribution, from lack of information as to national stocks, production and consumption, from lack of standards of quality and grades, from unnecessary multiplication of terms, sizes and varieties and from lack of uniformity of business practices in terms and documents with resultant misunderstandings, frauds and disputes."

The speaker then outlined in detail what the Department of Commerce is doing in the way of standardization and simplification to reduce these various forms of waste. "The department has started a movement in this direction which has won the approbation of bankers, business and industrial executives, economists, educators, labor leaders and others who have declared that the movement is of prime importance to the growth of American industry, to the protection of American standards of living and to the continuation of our present prosperity," said Mr. Gary.

Action to Take Gage Will to Court Quashed

A citation commanding Mrs. Fannie Gage, widow of Henry T. Gage, former Governor of California, to produce his will in court yesterday was dismissed at a hearing in Judge Reeve's court when her attorney, Ingle Bull, reported the will had been filed Thursday.

It was supposed, he said, there was nothing in the estate, which had never been probated, but only recently there had been discovered shares of promotion stock in an oil company, standing in Gage's name, which probably will have some value.

The citation had been obtained several weeks ago by Francis Gage, a son. Former Gov. Gage died about two years ago.

The will leaves everything to his wife, who is named as executrix.

ARSON RING GROWS LARGER

Keyes and Assistants Expect More Arrests in Gigantic Plot to Swindle Underwriters

Disclosures that the arson ring ramifications are far greater than heretofore believed caused Dist.-Atty. Keyes and Dep. Dist.-Atty. Melsaac yesterday to venture the opinion that more than half a dozen other arrests will take place in the case within a week.

Deputy Sheriff Hoffman and Capt. Fox of the fugitive squad learned through an attorney that Benjamin Sugarman and Joseph Greenberg will surrender today. They are believed to be arranging the $35,000 bond that must be provided for each if they are to have their freedom.

Sugarman and Greenberg are insurance adjusters and indictments of four counts have been returned against each in connection with the asserted fire plots. Benjamin Rosgow, H. Leviton, Max Rachoff, Harry Meyers and Fred Kaplan, who are variously interested in cloak, suit, fur, millinery and accounting businesses, already have been arrested in connection with the asserted arson ring.

Investigators are understood to have learned of an offer to an unnamed insurance solicitor for adjustments on $3,000,000 of fires to occur in the next month. "Greek fire," a World War product, it is said to have been disclosed to the grand jury, was to have been used by firebugs in the ring in such a manner that fires would be set going at long distance by use of the telephone, whose ringing bell would vibrate an explosive into action on the "Greek fire."

GIRLS MAKE MERRY IN CAMP AT PARK

Outdoor Life Proves Thrilling

"Allee-oop!" and Miss Ida Weiss shows her companions that it isn't necessary to go to the ocean to swim. Below, Helen I. Pontius "on the way in," for the Griffith Park retreat is well buried in the hills.

"FAR from the madding throng," with no outside telephone communication, and pack trains as the only source of supply, to wit: In a well-concealed canyon in the "wilds" of Griffith Park, there is a camp which few know about, where girls may go to taste the delights of "roughing it" and communing with nature. It is known as the girl's camp and is maintained by the city Playground and Recreation Department. It is conducted by Miss Helen Pontius, formerly the local director of the Girl Scouts.

Usually only girls belonging to some organized group and headed by a sponsor are allowed to take over the camp. The Community Chest supplies the necessary funds. At present, for instance, a group of sixty girls, sent by the Los Angeles section of the Council of Jewish Women, have been having their first experience as mountaineers. The girls live in cabins and take their meals in a community dining-room. Each girl has her turn at "kitchen police" duty. Days are conducted on a regular schedule, which includes rising for setting-up exercises at 6:30 a.m., flag-raising ceremonies, cabin-cleaning, sports, basket-weaving, hikes, swimming twice a day and camp-fire entertainment to conclude the round.

The girls sent to camp usually are those particularly in need of outdoor recreation and exercise. Character building also is considered an important part of the experience.

side. In the afternoon he will visit Redlands as the guest of an enthusiastic Shortridge-for-Senator Club which has been formed in that city. He will return that evening to the Mission Inn where an informal dinner will be given by his friends in that county.

CLUBS JOIN IN PROGRAM

Wednesday the Senator will go to San Bernardino and meet the friends who have long been clamoring for an opportunity to hear him. All of the luncheon clubs at San Bernardino are joining in a program of welcome with the Lions' Club acting as host.

Senator Shortridge will return to Los Angeles Wednesday night where he has been invited to address radioland on the subject of the Boulder Dam, broadcasting over KFWB Warner Brothers' studio.

Thursday Senator Shortridge will visit Orange, Santa Ana, Anaheim, Fullerton and Huntington Beach. At Santa Ana he is to be the guest at a combined luncheon given at noon at which the Lions' Club will serve as host. This meeting will be attended by members of the Rotary Club, Kiwanis Club, Knights of the Round Table and members of the Chambers of Commerce. In the evening a dinner will be tendered in honor of the Senator by a large group of public officials and others at St. Ann's Inn. This will be followed by an address which the Senator will deliver before a large outdoor gathering.

Friday a big speaking program has been planned for the Senator in San Diego, including a large luncheon meeting of the service clubs and a complimentary dinner at the Grant Hotel.

MANY CLUBS FORMED

From the Los Angeles County Shortridge-for-Senator headquarters, 508 Citizens National Bank Building, Los Angeles, announcement was made yesterday that twenty-two Shortridge-for-Senator clubs have been organized to cover all of the Assembly districts and a great many of the communities in these districts.

Under the direction of these various clubs, activities in behalf of the campaign to re-elect Senator Shortridge to the United States Senate, are being carried forward with enthusiasm.

Realty Dealer Gives Support to Bond Issue

Voters of Los Angeles should support the water and power bond issues which appear on special ballots at the 31st inst. primary election, it was declared yesterday by Parley M. Johnson, realty operator, in an appeal urging passage of these propositions.

Mr. Johnson stressed the importance of the two bond issues to the continued growth and development of the city.

"The $10,000,000 water bond issue provides for the construction of new distributing main trunk lines and the creation of new reservoirs in Los Angeles, which will give improved service to many districts of the city," said Mr. Johnson. "In addition the bonds provide for development of the present water resources to their fullest capacity, insuring a greater water supply which is necessary until we can obtain water from the Colorado River.

"The power bond issue of $11,000,000 is necessary to meet the increased business of the Bureau of Power and Light, and will assure development of 28,000 additional horsepower of hydroelectrical energy fro mthe aqueduct power plants. Neither of these bond issues will add to the taxes of the people as the two departments will meet all carrying charges from their revenues."

Enthusiastic support of the $10,000,000 water bond issue was also received from W. H. Daum, industrial developer.

FUND ASKED TO SPEED UP CITY WORK

Council Urged to Place Improvement Bond Issue on November Ballot

The placing on the November ballot of a bond issue of $5,000,000 to be used as a "revolving fund" for financing the preparation of engineerings plans and ordinances for street, paving, storm drain, sewer and other public improvements paid for by assessment districts was recommended to the City Council yesterday by Councilman Randall. He declared that the present method of financing this preparatory work for public improvements out of the general funds depletes the city treasury and delays the construction of improvements, as the city's finances are too limited to provide sufficient employees to speedily complete the work.

Under the Randall plan, the $5,000,000 bond issue revolving fund payments on preparation of public improvement ordinances will be repaid to the fund when the assessments are collected.

The proposal was sent to the Council's Finance Committee for consideration and report.

Husband Names Film Actor in Divorce Action

Charging his wife's asserted association with Jack Shepherd, film actor, would be detrimental to the welfare of their child, Fred Carter yesterday sought an injunction in Judge Wood's court preventing his wife and Shepherd from meeting.

Judge Wood admonished Mrs. Carter to conduct herself in a discreet manner, but told Carter he had no jurisdiction over the conduct of Shepherd, as the latter was not made a party to the contested divorce action pending between Carter and his wife.

Carter's charges were made in his cross-complaint to his wife's suit for divorce. Mrs. Carter charged her husband with cruelty, saying among other things that he refused to allow her to speak to her friends and falsely accused her of flirting.

LOCAL NEWS FLASHES

Admission of a plot, conceived and partially carried out by four men now in custody, to rob the county treasury of $50,000 in negotiable bonds, was made known Thursday to Deputy Sheriffs Pennywith and Kelley, by Clarence A. Watson, one of the quartette held, it has been reported. The other three men involved with Watson, according to the asserted admissions, are Robert D. Many of the youngsters have never seen the ocean.

NEW RELIGION TO BE TOPIC

Pastor Will Discuss Reception to Next Redeemer, if He Appears in Flesh

Does the world need a new religion, or does the cure for humanity's ills lie in the practical application of truths revealed to the race long ago by great spiritual teachers? If the Master should return to earth today, would He be met by the plaudits of multitudes or by a mob with a cross prepared for His crucifixion? What are the proportions of sensationalism and sincerity in the expectation of the advent of a redeemer who shall deliver man from his weakness and wickedness? Is the next world teacher now in the flesh and what will be the result of his ministry among men?

These questions, now agitating the minds of adherents of nearly all religions and creeds throughout the world, will be discussed at the Trinity Auditorium tomorrow morning by Manly P. Hall, pastor of the Church of the People. Mr. Hall will seek to analyze all angles of this subject, feeling that any light thrown upon it will be of interest and benefit to hopeful hearts.

Reapportioning Declared Most Vital of Issues

Placing constitutional reapportionment at the head of all issues in the November election, Kimpton Ellis, attorney, last night issued a statement urging support of Proposition No. 20 on the ballot.

Creation of the reapportionment commission as provided in the initiative measure was emphasized by the attorney as a vital necessity in giving Southern California the representation in Senate and Assembly to which it is entitled by population. Mr Ellis, who also is a member of the speakers' bureau of the All-Parties Reapportionment Committee, sponsoring the constitutional reapportionment measure, said:

"Proposition No. 20 for constitutional reapportionment is paramount to all other issues. It is unquestionably right. If Southern California is to get fair representation in the affairs of California, the Constitution must be amended in the manner proposed by the initiative measure which will appear on the ballot.

"This is one measure which must be supported 100 per cent. Partisanship does not enter the question. Unless Southern California polls a heavy, favorable vote in its support, constitutional reapportionment will fail.

"We must not forget in the glamour and din of office seekers, the necessity of active support of this amendment. It must not fail. We must stand united in this protest of the rights of the people of Southern California to fair representation in the law-making bodies of our State."

Asserted Still Compact Leads to Legal Fight

A story of what happens when partners fall out may be told in Municipal Court if charges brought yesterday against J. P. Borgas by Daniel Kaplan come to trial. Deputy City Prosecutor Concannon, at Kaplan's instigation, yesterday issued a complaint charging Borgas with malicious mischief and attempted extortion.

Kaplan, asserted, according to the prosecutor, that he and Borgas had agreed to go in together in the operation of a still at 1402 Oak Crest avenue, South Pasadena, part of the arrangement being that Borgas's wife should take orders by telephone at 744 Lillian Way, Los Angeles. After these arrangements were made, Kaplan declared, he refused to go through with the deal.

Borgas, according to Kaplan, then demanded that Kaplan pay him $3503.04 to clear off a mortgage from his house under penalty of being "made very sorry." The money had to be paid, Kaplan said, by next Tuesday. Kaplan declared he refused and that Borgas then went to 744 Lillian Way, tied knots in the fan belt of Kaplan's car and removed parts of the carburetor, causing damage of about $10.

OUT FOR MORE

One of the troubles with this world is that most of us are willing to work a lot harder for a million than for a millennium.

THE EARLY RISER

Connecticut is still turning out alarm clocks at the rate of 22,000 a day. Somewhere, somehow people are still getting up in the morning.

THE TARDY SEX

How can women generally be so eager to be strictly up to the minute in fashion and never seem to care a hoot about it in the matter of keeping appointments?

BETWEEN PLAGUES

Chicago health officers are grieving over the invasion of the city by hordes of bloodthirsty mosquitoes. It is a pity that the town's oversupply of gunmen cannot be put into commission hunting down the pestiferous creatures.

TAKING HIS PUNISHMENT

There's no satisfying the fair sex. Nine-tenths of them fret because their husbands don't really love their mothers; but when one Los Angeles man not only loved his mother-in-law but eloped with her his unreasonable wife sued him for divorce.

HIGH TEMPERATURES

The matter with Kansas is that a lot of citizens have sought to remain unruffled in the face of temperatures rising daily to something like 110 deg. in the shade—after cutting down a lot of the shade. No wonder that some of the folks are hot under the collar.

POOLING THE ISSUES

It takes all kinds of folks to make up the official life of a great city. For instance, the Los Angeles Civil Service Commission in the latest bulletin reports the need of a man to take charge of a poolroom. Any guy who can pocket fifteen balls from the break ought to be able to get a job like this.

FITTING THE CRIME

In China if it is found that a man has the habit of beating his wife his record is painted on a placard and he is forced to stand on the street corner with this evidence dangling about his neck. Some of these crude and ancient ideas of justice would be highly effective if they were resorted to today.

RAILWAYS PROSPER

The railroads of America earned nearly $500,000,000 during the first six months of the year. The chances are that Santa Claus will be moving at Christmas time and the officials of many of the roads will be able to dodge the poorhouse. In spite of the millions of motor trucks the steel rails are still kept from getting rusty.

THE HIGHEST EVER

There are no further legal obstacles to the erection of a skyscraper City Hall in Los Angeles and the new creation will rise to the full peak of 432 feet as planned by the architects—if the money holds out. It will be the only building to be beyond our charter limits and it will, therefore, be something that even the Angels can look up to.

GOING UP

There are now undersecretaries for aviation in the government Departments of War, Navy and Commerce. It may, therefore, be understood that the assertions that Uncle Sam is not giving proper attention to the nation's aerial service are not well proven. We are going to have our share of the heavens if we have to build a cloud-breaker.

ESCAPING DUTY

The Knights of Pythias are going to free themselves of the abrupt initials, "K.P.," as seen on some of their emblems. To the gallant knights who served their country overseas these letters suggest only the service of Kitchen Police and that is something they seek to forget. They may be a bit touchy about it, but many will understand.

RECIPROCITY

The parents of Robert Paris Green of Santa Ana are reported to have been very angry when the young man eloped the other day before attaining his majority and their consent, but to have forgiven him finally. Sure, they should have. If he's forgiven them for sticking a name like that on him in his infancy they ought to be willing to forgive him any little thing like that.

THE TEXAS TANGLE

Surface indications are that Jim Ferguson is not as good a sport as had been advertised. Miriam Ferguson told all the Texans that if she was beaten by one vote in the primary she would give up the Governor's chair without further controversy. Now the Fergusons appear to be not only going ahead with plans for the finals, but an effort was made to push Dan Moody off the ticket on the ground that some candidate for another office had contributed $200 to his campaign fund. They are trying to show that under the freak laws of Texas this is illegal. There are so many financial scandals over State primaries this year that the decent men of all parties should insist upon a repudiation of the system.

SHORTRIDGE AND THE SOUTH

Purely from the standpoint of self-interest the re-election of Samuel Shortridge to the Senate is a real necessity for Southern California, for an examination of the personnel of the next Congress demonstrates that on Shortridge, and on Shortridge alone, Southern California must rely.

For without Shortridge this part of the State, and Los Angeles county in particular, will very nearly approach the condition of which the colonies complained prior to the war of independence, that of taxation without representation.

Los Angeles county is entitled to two Representatives in the lower house. In Southern California there is a third, while the Eighth District, represented by Arthur M. Free, takes in the counties of Ventura and Santa Barbara, but runs northerly along the coast line almost to San Francisco. Of course, California has another Senator, but he is Hiram Johnson.

However, the two Representatives from Los Angeles will be men new to their duties, unless, by some whim of chance, Charles Randall is elected. Without discrediting the abilities of the successful candidates, whoever they may be, it is a commonly known fact that a new Congressman, or a new Senator, is almost helpless. His first session he spends sitting and listening and, if he is wise, learning, so that in the future, provided he holds on to his post, he may be of some worth to his constituents. He must, for a session at least, "grow up" in the service and prove his worth before he is admitted to the councils where legislation is actually achieved.

In the last Congress Los Angeles had to depend upon the excellent services rendered by Congressman Free, who took over the work due to the serious illness of Congressman Fredericks and the journeys undertaken by Congressman Lineberger. As for Congressman Swing, the less said the better.

Then there is Senator Johnson, presumably representing California. This Senator finds little time to devote to the needs of California. His days are filled with a frenzied search for something to attack and destroy. More than that, official Washington is "on to him," and his prestige has been wrecked by his own vaulting ambition and by his opposition to two successive Republican administrations.

Only Shortridge remains to carry the burden for Southern California, notwithstanding that he is himself a "northerner." Shortridge is now rounding out six years of service. He has been rewarded with positions on three committees of great importance to California. They are Finance, Naval Affairs and Irrigation and Reclamation. To a great extent the prosperity of Southern California is dependent upon the Republican protective tariff, simply a matter of equalizing for us the cheap peasant labor of Europe. Tariff matters are settled in the Finance Committee, and there stands Shortridge, a bulwark against any attempt to destroy the laboriously erected industries of California.

No State in the nation has more at stake in the question of irrigation and reclamation than California, and on that committee is Shortridge, to see that California gets her fair share of development. And with the United States fleet based on Southern California waters and numerous harbors on our coast line it obligates us to have a strong man battling for our rights.

Recent deaths and defeats in the ranks of the senior Republican Senators indicate that Shortridge, already well advanced in grade, will ascend further in power. No Senator ranks higher in the confidence of President Coolidge than Shortridge.

IT'S A DULL SUMMER

The group of high-powered correspondents assigned by their newspapers and news services to report the activities of President Coolidge in the Adirondacks find time hanging heavily on their hands.

A high-powered man is expected by his employer to produce high-powered material. But with the President insisting on taking a real vacation, the correspondents are hard put to it to turn out the sort of dispatches they conceive it their obligation to deliver. Mr. Coolidge is performing only those official duties which are requisite and necessary to keep the national government functioning in the even tenor of its way. Not much of a thrill is to be had from it. Nor can you expect a first-rank correspondent to stoop to reporting the President's fishing exploits.

And so we are being regaled in those journals which run to that class of matter with a variety of imagined sensations from the Coolidge camp.

A few weeks ago we were told that grave alarm was felt at the summer White House over the political situation. A couple of Senators had been defeated. The President was pictured as sending out hurry calls for Republican leaders for a "secret" conference to do something about it. Meanwhile Mr. Coolidge kept on calmly fishing.

Again the President was about to do something sensational about the foreign rubber monopoly. He was going to shake the foundations of Europe. He had "sent for" Harvey Firestone. And all Mr. Firestone wanted was to ask Mr. Coolidge personally to help him get a rubber concession in the Philippines. Likewise the visit of Edsel Ford to the Adirondacks camp was heralded as a move by the President to inaugurate some gigantic commercial airway project or other. No one can visit the summer White House without certain correspondents finding some sensational motive or undertaking behind it.

The latest flights of fancy have to do with Mexico. The President, if we believe some of the dispatches, is all wrought up over it. Secretary Hoover and Secretary Kellogg are going up next week and, according to one account, there are going to be "secret conferences" about it. The fact of the case indubitably is that the President is little concerned with the Mexican religious situation. It is an internal domestic question for Mexico alone to decide, and it is none of our business how she decides it, so long as American rights are not infringed. That is what the President plainly stated a few days ago and three years' experience with him has given no ground for belief that when he says one thing he means another.

One cheering thought in the circumstances is that the summer is nearly over. Then possibly the high-powered correspondents will have something worthy of their steel to do.

AN UNEXPECTED DROP

An August rain in San Diego proves that our climate is not so hedged about by precedent that it cannot wobble a little.

HEMMING IN THE RED BEAR

While the Red Bear of Moscow hibernates in his Communistic domain the politicians of Europe draw tighter the lines that will hold him close within his own preserves. Ever a menace, the Russian millions still slumber under the rule of their soviet leaders, but no sense of false security is felt throughout the continent. Instead, apprehensive glances forever are being cast at the Balkan frontiers for fear the Slavs, once aroused, will seek to push by sheer brute force their way through to the warm shores of the Mediterranean. It is a nightmare to more than one premier and cabinet member.

France has just completed her latest coup to forestall that eventuality. Already allied by treaty with Czecho-Slovakia and Poland, she now has completed negotiations with Rumania for a compact, couched in almost identical terms, which is calculated to strengthen the wall of armed men set up against the unwelcome Russian. If the three smaller nations feel themselves menaced they may point dramatically to France and cry out to the threatening invader, "She, too, if you attack us."

The Rumanian treaty, fostered by the astute Briand during his tenure as head of the French government in July, sets itself up to be an integral part of League of Nations and Locarno agreements. Whether it will be so construed by other nations who have an interest in Balkan affiliations remains to be seen. Italy, it is known, had a calculating eye on the advantages to be gained by an alliance with Rumania. M. Briand beat Mussolini in that race and the Roman dictator may feel aggrieved at what he possibly considers an added check on his imperialistic aspirations.

England undoubtedly has more than a passing interest in the Russian future because her own somewhat gloomy economic outlook is brightened by the dream of rich trade puums to be garnered there when capital comes fully into its own again. England wants no war, but it is conceivable that if Russia were to benefit her vicariously by gaining a Mediterranean outlet she would not be averse to seeing that occur. That Rumania or another objected and resorted to force might be deplored, but the scales of trade might weigh in favor of the Russian.

Paris statesmen declare that the Rumania agreement is intended to foster the cause of peace, even though it adds new complications to the balance of power. On the surface, however, it would appear that M. Briand has drawn up a document that may be signed in blood.

TRAMPS WANTED

In most sections of California tramps are considered most undesirable citizens and are shooed out of town. But up in Tulare county they are now welcomed and are treated with consideration as potential laborers in field and vineyard. At Lindsay and other towns they are made to feel at home and are not pestered by threats of arrest for vagrancy as formerly. Indeed, the ranchers are advertising for these wayfarers and extend to them the glad hand and the glad handout. The bulldog is kept carefully tied up, and if the visiting traveler wants a piece of pie the farmer's wife graciously offers it to him with plate, fork and napkin. All this is because there is much farm work to do and a dearth of laborers to perform it. Of course, it isn't because there is such a demand for their services in the valley that so many hoboes are traveling the coast route. Not a-tall. Still it is fairly safe to predict that the wild rush of these weary ones for Tulare county will begin about the same time that potatoes start to grow on peach trees.

FURNISHINGS

It always costs a lot to furnish public buildings. And one reason is that most of them have too many bureaus in them.

FOR THE JUNK PILE

If we must have more laws, why not have one making it a criminal offense for any person to operate an automobile which is mechanically unsafe?

No railroad or public utility would permit any of its cars to be operated after they have outlived their usefulness. They know it would jeopardize the lives of their patrons and make them liable for heavy damages in case of accident. Frequent inspection is an absolute necessity and when inspection proves that a piece of rolling stock is beyond repair it goes to the scrap heap.

Most accidents are the result of careless and inefficient drivers, but frequently the cause is found in faulty brakes, steering gear or in some other mechanical defect.

Our law compels the driver to carry with him a card showing ownership and registration of the car, adjusted headlights and a driver's license. But it says nothing about the condition of the car itself. It is left to the discretion of the owner and he seldom, if ever, seeks a garage until he knows by sight or sound or by something happening that repairs are needed.

Inspection by competent mechanics at regular intervals not only increases the life of motor cars, but saves the owners enough in later repairs to more than pay the inspecting costs, not to mention the saving of lives and prevention of accidents.

NEVER TOUCHED HIM

Possibly the administration will find it sensible to merely consider the inky explosion of Clemenceau as one of those unofficial presentments which make for discords between nations without having any responsibility behind them. That being the case, President Coolidge would pull down his ear muffs another notch and proceed with the business of catching bass with early worms. The sober French folk will take care of it themselves.

THE FLY

By James J. Montague.

The rattlesnake plays fair and square;
He bids the whole wide world beware
That he delights
In murderous fights
And homicidal battle.
He always gives his human prey
A decent chance to get away
When from afar
They hear the jar
And rasping of his rattle.
The fly seems kindly and well bred,
But he will kill you just as dead.

The tiger does not hesitate
To show that he is filled with hate.
He roars and growls
The while he prowls,
Which noises so affright you—
That, with a palpitating heart,
You somewhat hastily depart
And circumvent
The brute's intent
To leap on you and bite you.
The fly seems meek and mild and tame,
But he'll destroy you just the same.

The shark lives always in the sea,
Where people have no call to be.
In his damp home
Beneath the foam
He has small chance to meet them.
And though he very often feels
That he would like them for his meals,
He looks on men
But now and then
And rarely does he eat them.
The fly, however, day by day
Goes 'round collecting human prey.

LETTERS

BY THE SUBURBANITE

I know a woman whose life has been full of bad luck, yet full of good luck, too. That is, she has a host of friends, always eager to show friendship. Some of them are people she hasn't seen for years, yet their devotion is unflagging. And whenever trouble has descended on her they have not only warmed her heart with genuine sympathy, but have kept their eyes open for any opportunities which might interest her.

There must, of course, be something lovable in a personality which holds friends like that. Yet she is a high-strung woman, nervous, irritable, even quarrelsome at times. I've been trying to figure out what her rare gift of personality is and believe I have found the answer. She is the only person I know who is unselfish enough—devoted enough to her friends—to be a really good correspondent.

Every day she writes three to six personal letters—not business letters, not letters actuated by some hope of future benefit, but letters inspired wholly by friendship. Many of them are to people who live far away and whom she may never see again. Some are to friends she knew at school more than twenty years ago. But all have the effect of broadening her life, her interests, her sympathies beyond the narrow confines of her immediate surroundings; of keeping warm her affections for others.

So she makes a great success of life where most of us fail—for success in life ought to be counted by the sincere and unselfish friendships one maintains. The greatest of triumphs is embittered if one fears that instead of friends he is surrounded by sycophants and self-seekers.

For most of us life is a long succession of friendships, very dear in our youth, but gradually growing colder and colder as age and the self-interests of business harden us. When first we separate from friends we greatly love and admire we fully intend to write to them. But we put it off until it is postponed forever. So many a beautiful friendship comes to a miserable and lonely end.

And, stripped of all excuses, the reason is that we don't care enough for our friends to take the trouble of writing them a letter. We cannot hold true friendship that way. Friendship is never given greatly except to those who give greatly.

We say we are too busy. Yet we spend a great part of life in pitiful efforts to make new friends to replace those we have thrown away. For no man can live friendless. But once we let indolence and selfish absorption prevent us from keeping old friendships alive we lose the art of making new ones. All we make are mere acquaintances.

WOMAN! WOMAN!

H. Humprey, is past two and at such tender age has two little neighbor girls in love with him. He had to remain in the house for a few days last week, so when he was able to receive callers the two youngsters were called in.

Sally went up to him and said, "Do you like Helen? Say no," she said.

He answered in the negative, so she turned to his mother and said quite proudly, "Jackie don't like Helen, he just told me so." With that he dropped a little plaything and Helen picked it up and handed it to him, so he graciously patted her head and smiled.

It was too much for 3-year-old Sally, who looked as though she had been "double-crossed," so turning to his mother she said, "The next time Jackie drops something I'll pick it up."—[Indianapolis News.

Where California Stands

SANTA PAULA, Aug. 11.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In announcing his support of ex-Judge Clarke for United States Senator, D. J. Reese, head of the Civil Service Bureau, gives out the following:

"He has my support because of his opposition to the World Court and his declaration of his intention to vote against any adherence to the court if he represents California in the Senate. California has voiced its sentiment on this all-important question, and it should not send a Senator to Congress to misrepresent those sentiments."

Now doesn't that line of talk give you a pain? We only have to go back two years to find the record. In 1924 the Republicans nominated for President the only man in the party in whom we could have unbounded confidence—Calvin Coolidge. California sent a solid Coolidge delegation to that convention—and licked anticourt Hiram Johnson to do it. One of the leading planks in the platform upon which Coolidge stood for election reads as follows:

"The Republican party reaffirms its stand for agreement among nations to prevent war and preserve peace. As an immediate step in this direction we indorse the Permanent Court of International Justice and favor the adherence of the United States to this tribunal as recommended by President Coolidge. This government has definitely refused membership in the League of Nations and to assume any obligations under the covenant of the League. On this we stand."

In the November elections California gave Coolidge a plurality of 308,601 and a net majority of 134,722—all without any help from Hiram Johnson.

Yes, "California has voiced its sentiments on this all-important question" and the only United States Senator from California who has not "misrepresented" us in the past two years has been Samuel Shortridge. He surely deserves our support.

Disreputable Parks

HERMOSA BEACH, Aug. 11.—[To the Editor of The Times:] A sense of civic pride seems to be lacking either in the natives or in our transient visitors. I speak of Westlake Park and Pershing Square in particular. These two gathering places of the city's population, on Sunday afternoons, after the crowds have dispersed, look like a junkman's paradise with the discarded newspapers scattered on the lawns, walks and more or less indiscriminately all over the place.

It may be that the city fathers have overlooked the fact that these places are supposed to be beauty spots and have put no restrictions forth as to the manner in which they shall be kept clean.

A few arrests and fines would be a wonderful tonic for the type of person who has no more civic pride or sense of cleanliness. It would be a different matter entirely if the ones who are responsible for this condition entertained friends who scattered their lunch remains—old newspapers, etc.—all over their lawn. Yet they are in the same category—Los Angeles is entertaining people who have little regard for the manner in which they treat the city property.

In San Francisco a condition of this sort would not be tolerated in the city parks. Try it, and enjoy an outing in one of the city cars—one of Chief of Police O'Brien's specially equipped sedans.

Politics vs. Protection

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 10.—[To the Editor of The Times:] When a Sheriff and District Attorney, without even consulting the trial judge, release from prison a man convicted of an attack upon a young girl, it seems that it is time for somebody to ask whether or not such officers are doing their best to make Los Angeles a safe city for women? Good citizens must deplore the fact that an enraged citizenry sometimes takes the law into its own hands—but a little more law and less leniency might help to correct matters in this regard. If a tiger were to escape from the circus and go tearing through the streets of Los Angeles officers sworn to protect the public would consider it right to either kill or cage the beast. However, a tiger has no citizenship nor property rights; he cannot vote or carry a gun.

Show Me!

SANTA MONICA, Aug. 10.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The Lancer says this morning:

"In trying to steal the credit of the polar flight expedition from Lincoln Ellsworth and Amundsen he (Gen. Nobile) gave the world's championship exhibition of poor sportsmanship."

As the airship used was designed by Gen. Nobile and built under his supervision in Italy and as he navigated it from there to Spitzbergen where he took Amundsen and Ellsworth on board, and as he then continued to command and navigate the ship to its landing place in Alaska, where Amundsen and Ellsworth left him to get the ship dismantled to bring back, it would be interesting if the Lancer would tell us just what credit it is that Gen. Nobile has "stolen" from Amundsen and Ellsworth.

"MICROPHOBIA" NEW AILMENT

Authorities Discuss Radio Stage Fright

Even Stars Not Immune to Broadcast Fear

Friday, 13th, Day of Cheer at Tower Studio

BY UNCLE JOHN

Friday the 13th brought no ill luck to the tower studio of The Times, although William MacDougal, Scotch comedian, remarked as he stepped to the microphone last night, "If I get microphobia, as 'O'B.' of KTAB calls it, I will have a good excuse today."

However, this introduces a consideration of what may be termed radio stage fright. We have seen grand-opera stars with many years of footlight experience behind them grow pale and tremble with serious attacks of microphonitis. Even William Gibbs McAdoo was "scared to frozen silence" on the occasion of his first talk at KHJ. The inanimate, harmless microphone has been called everything from an alarm clock to the national garbage can. "Some knothole," said Earl Ennis, "but I can't see anything through it." "What is microphobia?" we asked Ada Morgan O'Brien, "O'B.," yesterday afternoon.

"Why, microphobia is a tendency to froth at the mouth and at times produces a condition where singers, especially sopranos, should be muzzled," was the reply. "I saw Jack Dempsey sidestep and feint before the microphone with a growl. Finally, after mopping perspiration from his face and neck, he delivered this solar plexus: 'I would rather tear loose in a battle royal than be refereed by this thing-a-majig hanging in front of me.'"

"Jack Dempsey did not take the count, but he certainly said a mouthful," opined "O'B." "No more critical referee than the microphone was ever born. Reaching all classes of humanity, knowing no race, color or creed, 'Mike' is concentrated TNT. You never can tell who will get stage fright. I can think of but one possible exception. The dyed-in-the-wool clubwoman apparently is immune."

"O'B" desires thanks for substantiating our own experience at KHJ. More seriously, it is necessary to become accustomed to the microphone the same as in driving an automobile or taking one's first high dive into Mother Ocean. The secret of poise and comfort before the microphone is to just be natural—be yourself, with a feeling in your heart that you are giving something to the public backed by a sincere wish to make them happy or benefit them. Many performers close their eyes when speaking, singing or playing at KHJ. However, the greatest success is obtained, particularly among speakers, when they get that far-away expression in their eyes. They appear to actually see through the microphone and feel the presence of a vast audience on the other side. This is an absolute requirement in successful studio directing. The announcer or director must be able to visualize the actual expression on the faces of listeners-in.

"We have lost 50 per cent of our audience in the last five mintes," was remarked by the announcer as he stepped into the reception-room of KHJ. Just as he felt that conviction, so must the speaker or singer feel the temperament and response of the unseen audience.

We had the pleasure last night of introducing to Radioland Irwin Hassel, pianist, who was for five years an artist-student of Sharwenka in Berlin, where he also appeared with the Philharmonic Orchestra. He believes in radio, for he has played over WEAF, WNYC and WJZ of New York. His artistry was exemplified in "The Fauns," by Chaminade, and "Capuci Espanol," by Moszkowski. Violin solos by Anita Holt added to the standard of the program in her splendid presentation of "The Obertass Mazurka," by Wieniawski; "Traumeri," by Schumann; "Spanish Dance," by Bohm, and "Souvenir," by Drdla.

Humor unfailingly carries with the appearance of William MacDougal, Scotch singer and comedian. It has become a practice to escort three or four pretty girls to the microphone when he sings, grouping them in front of him and how he does sing, and we all enjoy the little byplay. Thomas Francis Kelly again appeared, with his rich tenor voice. Among his songs were "Panis Angelicus," by Franck, and "Brown Bird Singing," by Wood. The return after several months of Florence Hart Allen, dramatic impersonator, evoked appreciative response from guests in the visitors' gallery. She handled character monologues and both comedy and musical readings. Personality in the harp playing of Grace Currey holds a wide range of friendship for her. Her playing is always without manuscript and she has a splendid repertoire of old-time heartfelt numbers. Preceding the night program Jay Dutter of the California Dairy Council gave the fifth of his series of talks on "The Cow" and Rev. J. K Higginbotham, pastor of Hyde Park Congregational Church, handled the Scripture reading.

With the brilliancy of a constellation little stars of the children's hour had their playtime. David Durand, "Little Boy Blue of Radioland," atop the celeste delivered his selections with the poise and zest of the trained orator. He gave truly masterful interpretations of his mother's poems and the little jokes which he always has tucked up his sleeve. Marguerite Bringham, "Nightingale of KHJ," gives undeniable promise of a future with her voice. Allene Armstrong and Winifred Hobson, 11 and 12 years of age, and playing cornet and clarinet, respectively, harmonized remarkably well in duets. Readings by Eleanor Seablom and Doris Delmar Short, dainty little tots, and the work of Piggly Wiggly Girls completed a happy program.

The noon program afforded us a surprise in the nature of a visit from Miss Lenore Killian, one of the favorite contraltos of the air. Miss Killian sang two numbers in her usual artistic way. These were rendered in honor of our good friend Joe Kerr, who yesterday celebrated his birthday. Helen Jensen, a little lady with a pleasing personality who is becoming more popular each week with her clever individual way of interpreting "blue" songs, presented four numbers and received many requests by telephone, which lack of time prevented her from complying with. George O'Hara breezed into the studio with a broad grin, clad in his tuxedo, and sang two of his light ballad numbers and left to make his debut at the Metropolitan Theater for one week. L. M. Sproul made his initial appearance as a broadcaster and presented five artistic harmonica selections consisting of old-time numbers. The playing of "The Second Mazurka," by Godard, by Mona Content, pianist of KHJ, was one of the features of the program.

MRS. DAY OFF FOR PRISON

Convicted Acid Thrower Says She Has No Bitter Feelings as She Starts North

"I have no bitter feelings against anyone," said Bernice Day, convicted of throwing a caustic chemical in the face of her husband, Darby Day, Jr., son of a wealthy Chicago insurance man, as she left yesterday for San Quentin on the Owl to begin her sentence of one to fourteen years. "I have nothing to say about the case as there has been too much said already." She then boarded the train.

Mrs. Day was in the custody of Deputy Sheriff Jack King and Mrs. King. Her mother, Mrs. Grace Lunstrom, accompanied her to the train and made the trip to the prison with her. "I think she is a brave little girl," Mrs. Lunstrom said with tears in her eyes.

Just before the train started several large baskets of flowers arrived from friends of Mrs. Day. When she was asked whether she expected to hear fro mher husband, she replied: "Maybe."

Mrs. Day was dressed in a white dress, with a white coat trimmed with black, white shoes and stockings, and wore a large straw flop hat.

Mrs. Day gave up her fight to keep ou of the penitentiary yesterday when she surrendered herself in Judge Hardy's court and said she was ready to begin serving her sentence. Her appearance in court was unexpected as it had been announced that her attorneys might carry the case to the United States Supreme Court. Her bail was declared exonerated and she was remanded to the custody of the Sheriff.

Mrs. Day was convicted last year by a jury in Superior Court on one count of the indictment, assault with a caustic chemical, and found not guilty on another charge, assault with an intent to commit great bodily harm. The Appellate Court reversed the decision on the ground that the two courts were identical in intent. The Supreme Court of the State then reversed the Appellate decision.

ACID HURLED

She in the meantime had gone to Chicago and there were rumors of a re conciliation with her husband. These were denied by young Day. Yesterday Mrs. Day intimated she again is on good terms with her husband. Her mother also indicated that Mrs. Day's attorney, Max Lewis, will take the matter to the Supreme Court as soon as she begins to serve her sentence at the prison.

Mrs. Day, according to the State's evidence at her trial, had quarrelled with her husband and left her Beverly Hills home. On the night of February 23, 1925, she was declared to have returned to her house and called Darby Day, Jr., outside where she threw the contents of a bottle of nitric acid into his face.

Mrs. Bernice Day

Following the trial young Day returned to Chicago where he filed suit for divorce. Mrs. Day applied for probation but it was denied. Her sister was indicted jointly with her but was found not guilty by the jury.

TRAINING IN SCHOOLS FAVORED BY LEGION

Retention of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps in schools and colleges is urged in a resolution adopted unanimously by Hollywood Post, Los Angeles Post, Los Angeles City Interpost Council and the Tenth District Caucus of the American Legion: the resolution will be offered at the State convention of the legion at Susanville next week, and forwarded to the National convention for similar action. Copies of the resolution are to be sent to the Senators and Congressmen from California. The resolution declares that military training is of "lasting benefit" to the students and vitally important to national defense.

TAX ACTION FILED ON SPEEDWAY INCOME

The Speedway Corporation of Los Angeles yesterday was made defendant in a tax lien for $8744.67 filed in United States District Court by Collector of Internal Revenue Galen H. Welch. Interest of $320 also was charged. The tax was levied on 1925 income. Marie and R. N. Fremont of Bell, were sued for $93,834.08 on income received during 1924 and 1925.

Lease Taken on Store Building of Bon Marche

Involving $2,500,000, a thirty-year lease was negotiated yesterday on the Bon Marche store building, 443-47 South Broadway. Announcement of the transaction was made by Clem S. Glass, vice-president of W. Ross Campbell Company, brokers. The stucture was leased to J. J. Newberry Company of New York, operator of a line of 5 and 10-cent stores.

This is the first western location of the Newberry concern, which has confined its business to New York City and vicinity. According to C. T. Newberry, treasurer, it is now one of the four largest chain-store firms of its kind in the United States.

The property, 60x165, was purchased by W. H. Cline, J. C. Cline and Harry J. Lelande of the Cline Realty Company for $200,000 in 1907. The building, which will be completely renovated and modernized, is a Class C, four-story-and-basement structure.

The front will be refinished in terra cotta. The ground-floor glass front will be replaced with large modern show windows. The basement floor will be lowered three feet and used as a salesroom. A high-speed elevator will be installed.

OPPOSE SIDEWALK ADS

The Municipal Art Commission has gone on record in opposition to the placing of advertising signs on sidewalk marquise after the marquise have been approved as to design without signs. The commission has declared its opposition to the placing of these signs on the marquise as being detrimental to the appearance of the city.

RAIL BIRTHDAY FETE PLANNED

Golden Anniversary of First Line to be Held

Scenes of Early-Day Epoch Will be Re-enacted

Bay City Chamber to Join Local Men in Jubilee

The golden anniversary of Los Angeles' first railroad connection with the outside world will be observed by an appropriate celebration on Sunday, September 5. Announcement was made yesterday by President Bent of the Chamber of Commerce.

Plans for the celebration were outlined earlier this week by the publicity committee of the chamber and approved by the directors. Charles A. Cook of the chamber's convention department was appointed director of the celebration and E. H. Sharpe, assistant manager of development of the Southern Pacific, assistant director.

Cook and Sharpe are to work in co-operation with a special celebration committee of the chamber, the membership of which includes Richard Smith, Southern California Edison Company, chairman; John Brown, Ambassador Hotel; Zack Farmer, Community Development Association; Guy Rowell, Biltmore; William Lacy, past president Chamber of Commerce, Mayor Cryer and Chairman McClellan of the Board of Supervisors.

A feature of the celebration will be the re-enactment of the "Wedding of the Rails," staged by pioneer residents of the city when the golden spike was driven at a point between Saugus and Lang, Sept. 5, 1876.

At the original celebration half a century ago, a delegation of San Francisco business men, headed by the Mayor and Supervisors of the Bay City, came south in a special train and joined in the driving of the golden spike. The directors of the chamber are inviting the northern chamber and officials of San Francisco to participate in the golden anniversary next month.

It is planned to place the old railroad equipment and other relics on exhibition, probably at Exposition Park, immediately following the celebration. Other details of the celebration now are being worked out by the special committee in charge and will be announced in a few days.

ACTION POSTPONED ON BRICK-MAKING BAN

The City Council yesterday postponed action until next Friday at 10:30 a.m. on an ordinance prohibiting the operation of brick-manufacturing plants in the Chavez Ravine section of the city near Elysian Park. Property owners in that district have been contesting in the courts for eighteen months to bring about the removal of the two brickyards there, declaring that they are a nuisance and a menace to the health of the people of the district. They also object to the blasting operations of the companies carried on to obtain the clay for the bricks manufactured there.

The Chamber of Commerce tried to work out a compromise and suggested that the companies be given three years and to cease operations by that time. The property owners, headed by Egerton Shore, declined to accept the three-year compromise or the two-year offer made by the brick companies, but asked that the ordinance be adopted at once.

CHILDREN BITTEN, DOG OWNER FINED

Clark Burroughs of 2213 Court street was convicted yesterday before Municipal Judge Pope of harboring a vicious dog, on the testimony of two children of the neighborhood who testified they had been bitten by his collie. Sentence of $250 or fifty days in jail was suspended on condition that Burroughs keep the dog tied up or on leash.

AVOCADO CANAPE

Pare, seed and dice two avocados and let them marinate in French dressing for an hour. Prepare a thick slice of toast for each portion, hollow out the center, sprinkle with grated cheese and let stand for a couple of minutes in the oven to melt the cheese. Drain the avocado and heap in the center of each slice of toast. Garnish with olive stuffed with almonds. This will make six canapes.

PARSNIP PUREE

Pare and boil six good-sized parsnips until soft enough to mash, drain and put them through a puree sieve; add one cupful of milk in which a teaspoonful of cornstarch has been dissolved, two tablespoonfuls of melted butter, pepper, salt and a teaspoonful of sugar; mix smooth, add a half-pint of cream and let boil up once, stirring carefully; then add a half-pint of hot cream. It is then ready to serve. Use toast squares that have been fried in butter and drained and rub the inside of the tureen with a little piece of garlic.

ROAST PORK

Select a loin of pork weighing six or seven pounds and containing the tenderloin, have the butcher score it and place it in the roasting pan, dusting lightly with a little pepper and salt, or turning over it a quarter of a cupful of honey mixed with a half cupful of boiling water. If the pork is very lean it should be rubbed over with olive oil before roasting, but its own fat is usually sufficient. Baste it often. A six or seven-pound loin should roast from two and a half to two and three-quarter hours.

BAKED BANANAS

Pare enough bananas to allow one to a portion. Put them in a buttered pie plate with a generous lump on each, dust lightly with pepper and salt and turn over them a half-cupful of honey and a quarter cupful of boiling water. Cover and bake in the oven for fifteen minutes; uncover and bake until they are a delicate brown.

Another way of baking bananas is to take off a strip of the peel lengthwise and then lay the bananas in a buttered baking pan; into the top of each a little melted butter that has been seasoned with lemon juice and a teaspoonful of chutney syrup. Let them bake for twenty minutes. When done they may be served in the shells or be very easily removed from the skins and a little melted butter turned over each portion.

CAFE PARFAIT

Pour one pint of boiling water over eight tablespoonfuls of ground coffee. Let it stand for ten minutes, then add three-quarters of a cupful of sugar, and one-half pint of warm milk. When cool strain and add one-half pint of heavy cream and freeze. Fill parfait glasses, adding a tablespoonful of whipped cream to the top of each and garnish with a fresh strawberry.

BAVARIAN SANDWICHES

Boil one firm head of cauliflower until tender, though it should not be allowed in any way to fall apart. When cold slice it in thin slices, dredge with flour and fry in very hot butter until a delicate brown; Sprinkle with pepper and salt and put on blotting paper to drain. When cold spread on thin slices of brown bread with fresh butter and cut wedge shaped.
